Gov. Brown Seeks Death Row Solution Against Crowding

Declares Courts Already Repealed Capital Punishment

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An unprecedented 45 prisoners are crowded into San Quentin's Death Row and the situation "cries out for remedy," Gov. Edmund G. Brown said today.

He told his news conference that there hasn't been an execution in California in almost 10 and one-half months even though he has commuted only two death sentences.

All the others have been held back by court delays.

"It really means that capital punishment has been repealed by the courts," said Brown.

The governor, long an advocate of abolishing the death penalty, declared justice must be carried out with dispatch, but that neither the state bar nor the courts recognize this fact.

"The answer, of course, is repeal of capital punishment and substitution of life imprisonment without possibility of parole," he said.

Brown said facilities for condemned men at San Quentin are jammed, and some have been confined to their small cells seven and one-half to eight years while they battle in the courts for their lives.

On other subjects, Brown gave these views:

BRACEROS — Expressed hope that the Senate will agree with House action and extend the bracero program for just one more year. But he favors repealing the law after that.

The governor said California farmers will have to do a little bit more to attract agricultural workers once the flow of Mexican nationals ceases.

WATER—Said he won't commit himself on Interior Secretary Stewart Udall's Pacific Southwest water plan until he, Brown, makes a final report on the proposal to export Northern California surplus water to Southern California and Arizona.

Brown said California faces a real problem as the result of the Supreme Court decision favoring Arizona in the Colorado River case.

TAHOE — Announced he will meet with Nevada Gov. Grant Sawyer at Lake Tahoe Nov. 11 to discuss pollution and other problems affecting the big mountain lake.

FREEWAYS — Said San Francisco's revolt against freeways is "ridiculous."

The governor said he plans to invite the new mayor of San Francisco to the capital to discuss the problem of getting approval of freeway routes in the city.

State Selling $50 Million Water Notes

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State Treasurer Bert A. Betts today set Nov. 21 for sale of 50 million dollars in short term state notes to keep the state water project under construction while the Supreme Court ponders its long term financing.

It will be the first sale in history of the "bond anticipation notes," authorized by the 1961 legislature at Betts' request.

The notes will have a six and one-half month term, falling due next June 15. Experts expect the interest rate to be below 2 per cent, because of the short term. The regular water bonds will have terms of up to 50 years and are expected to cost around 4 per cent.

Experts say the state could not get that interest advantage by repeated sales of short term notes, because nobody would buy them every six months. If they were going to have their money tied up for a long time anyway, they would demand a higher interest.

Betts said it now appears the State Supreme Court will not rule on the legality of the Brown administration's proposal for long term financing of the water project until Feb. 1.

The court last week delayed its hearing on the Brown plan until Dec. 5.

Cab Driver Who Hit Four Gets Probation

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Ralph Charkins, 60, the cab driver found guilty of running down four pedestrians on Market Street last July, received five years probation yesterday.

He was also admonished by Superior Judge Norman Elkington not to drive or drink during the probationary period.

Thanksgiving Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy today proclaimed Nov. 28 as Thanksgiving and told the nation it "must never forget that the highest appreciation is not to utter words but to live by them."

Bolinas Is Voting In Bond Election

Fifteen of 92 registered voters in the Bolinas Beach Public Utility District had turned out this forenoon to cast ballots in the district's $75,000 bond election.

Polls in the one-precinct district will be open today until 7 p.m. at the Bolinas Mesa Clubhouse.

Dorothy Paul, district secretary, called the 16 per cent voting as of 11 a.m. "fairly good" and expected heavier voting this evening when commuters return from work.

The bond issue, if approved by a two-thirds majority, will allow construction of a new 400,000-gallon water tank and concrete 10-inch water line to serve residents of Bolinas Mesa.

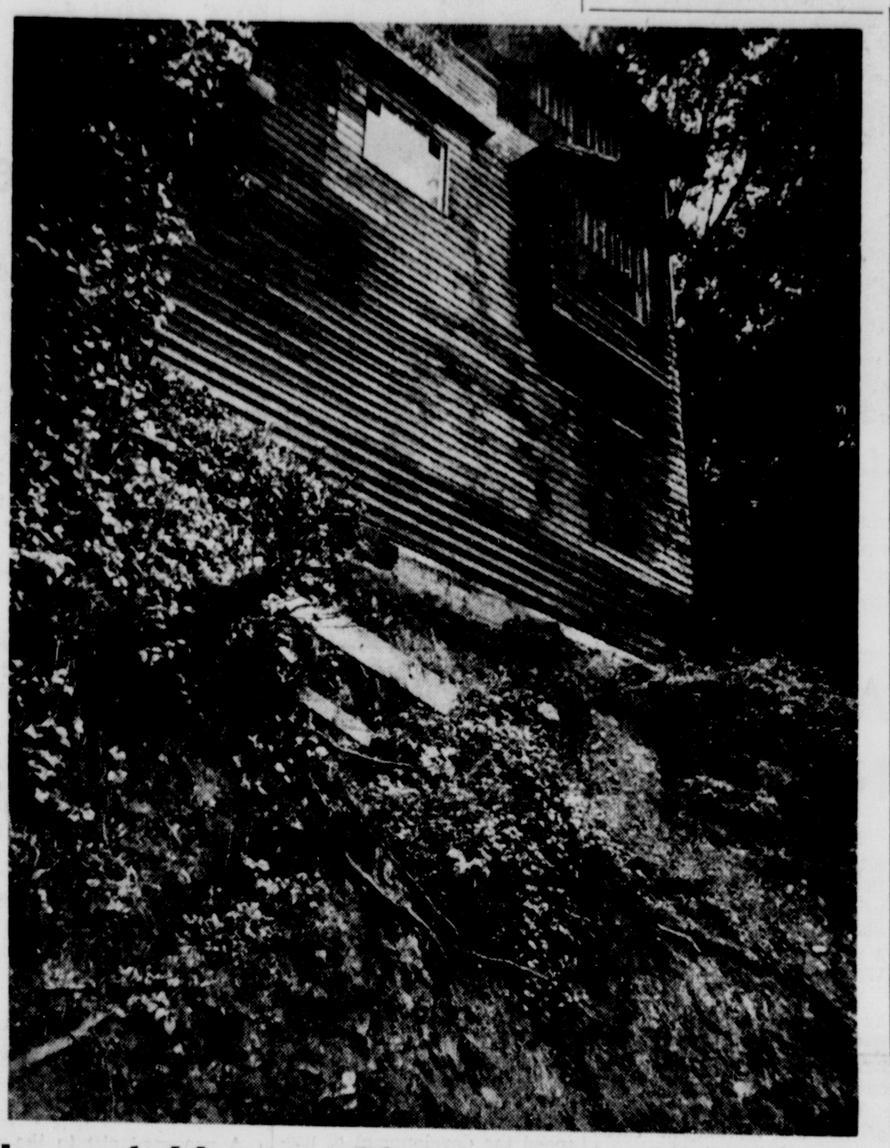

No Coed Clues

ALBANY (UPI) — Police remained without a solid clue today in the disappearance of Judith Williamson, 18, University of California pre-med student. The coed vanished a week ago from her home here, presumably bound for classes.

IT MUST GO—BUT HOW?

The Mill Valley City Council last night declared this house at 376 Ethel Avenue a public nuisance and hazard and ordered it removed. At the same time the council ordered a new retaining wall to protect Ethel Avenue, which will necessitate temporary closing of the street—already closed for eight months last year and this year.

Hazard House Closes Ethel Avenue Again

Mill Valley's wet and woody Ethel Avenue is to be closed again to prevent a two-story house with a "bowed chimney" from tumbling ino the street.

The Mill Valley City Council declared the home, owned by Otto Swenson of San Francisco, a public nuisance last night after City Engineer Stanley M. Bala said it is hazardous and, with heavy rains, could collapse at any time.

The wooden structure is now vacant.

Bala said Ethel Avenue would need to be closed only during the day and for a week to 10 days. It was closed from last No. 7 until mid-July this year while the city had a concrete retaining wall installed to replace a distintegrating wood tresle. And, just as the A. E. Mullin Construction Co. was finishing its work, a heavy rain on April 16 caused land to slide away from the house.

The city council last night accepted a low bid of $11,268 from Roen Construction Co., Danville, to build another retaining wall, and authorized City Atty. Leland H. Jordan to get reimbursement from the Mullin firm.

The council also declared the house a public nuisance and ordered it abated.

Mill Valley Finance Head Defends Handling Of Funds

Thomas T. Behnke, Mill Valley finance director, last night defended his handling of city funds, criticized last Wednesday in a public statement by City Councilman George D. Monardo.

Behnke said city retirement funds had not been invested sooner because they were in bank time deposits due to terminate soon.

He said when the full year is completed, records will show the city has received 4 per cent interest on its funds on deposit.

Monardo had questioned why money had not been invested as per city retirement board policy of Aug. 5. Monardo claimed also that if City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants had been doing his job, the city's tax rate might by 25 cents lower this year.

Behnke said that of the $91,000 in retirement funds, $50,000 was placed Oct. 1 in savings and loan firms, $30,000 will become available Sunday and be placed in savings and loan firms, and $10,000 is to be invested later.

"When I said we were earning 3⅝ per cent interest on retirement funds, this was an average on all interest up until Oct. 1," said Behnke. "I'm in the process of checking now with (city auditor) Frederic D. Kerr so we can answer your letter."

"Anytime is doesn't draw 4 per cent, somebody has got to make up the diffirence. It comes out of taxpayers' pockets and city employees' contributions," said Monardo.

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks said he remembered that retirement funds were not be co-mingled with other city funds. "If it is to be co-mingled," he said, "we will have a problem finding out what we're getting on our investment."

Voting 'Fairly Light'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—San Francisco voters turned out in "fairly light" numbers during the morning hours today to begin the rainy trek to the polls that will end in selection of a new mayor, six county supervisors, a sheriff and a municipal judge.

New Storm Hits; More Rain Is Due

A new storm with heavy rainfall and gusty winds moved into Marin today on the heels of Sunday night's soaker, with the promise of wet weather through tomorrow.

The Weather Bureau predicted the heaviest rain in coastal areas. Snow will fall down to the 5,000 foot level.

San Rafael, with a total 1.74 from yesterday's storm, had .15 of an inch more by noon today as the new storm began with a gentle sprinkle. Noon readings for other areas included .25 at Woodacre and San Anselmo and .15 at Novato.

Novato recorded half an inch yesterday morning bringing its total from the storm to 1.20.

San Rafael's season total now stands at 4.42. Last year at this time the total was 10.15. Average for Nov. 5 is 2.82.

Command Changes In Middle East

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara today gave the Army-Air Force Strike Command all responsibility for handling brush-fire emergencies in the Middle East, Southern Asia and much of Africa.

This action, approved by President John F. Kennedy, has the effect of stripping the Navy of important command jurisdiction it long has held in that part of the world.

Effective Dec. 1, it also consolidates under Army Gen. Paul D. Adams, Strike Command chief, certain jobs now performed by Army headquarters here, in Paris, and at Fort Monroe, Va.

Kidnap, Robbery Charges

Paul M. Meredith, 23-year-old airman wanted in Marin and Sonoma counties on charges of kidnaping, armed robbery, attempted rape, assault with a deadly weapon and jumping $31,250 bail, was arrested last night in a Youngstown, Ohio, rooming house.

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents took Meredith into custody without a fight. They had been working on the case since early October because Meredith was born at Warren, Ohio, only seven miles away, and grew up in the area.

BAIL SET

Edward E. Hargett, special agent in charge of the Cleveland FBI office, said Meredith was taken today before United States Commissioner Henry C. Robinson to be arraigned on a federal charge of fleeing across a state line to avoid prosecution.

Hargett said Meredith had not said whether he would waive exradiction to California. Bail has been set at $52,500 each on separate bench warrants from Marin and Sonoma counties. Robinson, in Youngstown, set bail at $50,000 for the federal charge.

Meredith is also absent without leave from Hamilton Air Force Base.

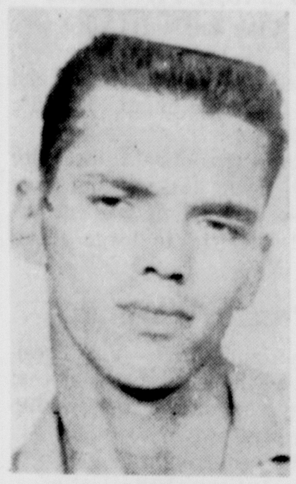

KIDNAP CHARGE

The airman is accused of terrorizing the Garth Tufts family in their Cotati trailer home and kidnaping their daughter, Alea Tufts, 15, on July 25, and then of the armed robbery of the Household Finance Corp. office in San Rafael of $6,275 the next day.

He was caught after a 100-mile-an-hour chase on Highway 101 by the California Highway Patrol at the Spencer Avenue turnoff in Sausalito.

There had been conjecture Meredith would try to leave the country, because he had a passport. His bail had been posted partly by a brother in Garden Grove and partly by a bail bondsman.

Sonoma County sheriff's officers said today no plans have been made yet to send a man to Ohio to bring back Meredith and hinted Marin County may be given the chore. Although Meredith jumped bail officially earlier in Sonoma County, Marin County had proceeded farther in its case, with the jury trial scheduled to start Oct. 29.

San Jose Will Call Bond Vote

The San Jose Elementary School District board voted last night to call for a special election for next March 3 on a bond issue of $275,000 and state loan of $1,184,000.

If approved, this would take the district through its projected $1,619,649 building program for the next two years.

Supt. Ralph Giovanniello outlined the building program after reporting 215 houses are under construction in the district.

Plans call for six classrooms at Loma Verde School to cost $175,112; six at the intermediate school to cost $181,574; completion of the intermediate school with music room, lockers, industrial arts and home economics departments, $357,387 and 12-classroom, two-kindergarten school to cost $655,576, with its site costing $250,000.

The district has $109,000 in bonds voted in 1955 which are unsold, said Giovanniello. A $275,000 bond issue would bring it to the legal limit, making it eligible to borrow from the state.

"This would have very little effect on the tax rate because the assessed valuation goes up each year," he said. The district is now paying 43 cents bond redemption and the state limit is 45 cents, so the most it could increase would be about two cents or $2 to the average home, he reported.

This program would be in addition to $386,000 allocated by the federal government for multi-use rooms at Loma Verde and San Jose Intermediate schools.

Marinwood Rec Unit Reviews Swim Pool

Marinwood parks and recreation commissioners last night reviewed plans for a $100,000 swimming pool at the community center and decided to discuss the pool further with Marinwood Community Services directors Thursday night.

Redevelopment Aides Clash On Statements

Construction Of Marin City Homes 18 Months Behind

Construction of Marin City homes is about 18 months behind schedule, members of the Redevelopment Agency of Marin learned in a stormy session yesterday afternoon.

It was not the behind-schedule report that caused the storm, however. That was kicked up by a dispute between Alton Lerch of Novato, agency chairman, and Harold Stockstad of Mill Valley, vice chairman.

Lerch objected to statements about the agency that Stockstad had made at public meetings and in a report to County Supervisor Peter Behr. He said such statements should be cleared first with the agency.

STOCKSTAD VIEW

"Yes, I communicated with public bodies," Stockstad said. "I accepted about 10 meetings to explain the redevelopment program. I hope the other members of the commission have been just as active."

But in a 4-1 vote, with Stockstad dissenting, the agency adopted a policy to have answers on public requests for information cleared by the chairman of the executive director.

Supervisor Behr, attending the meeting with Supervisor Chairman William D. Fusselman, was assured that the policy did not apply to information asked by a member of the board of supervisors.

NO ALARM

James Scheuer of New York, developer of Marin City, told members of the agency not to be alarmed by the fact that construction is 18 months behind schedule. Compared with other redevelopment projects across the county, this is nothing to be ashamed of, he said.

He said the delayed projects include construction of 300 non-relocation homes (those that will be offered for sale) and 200 relocation homes, (replacing substandard homes removed from Marin City).

Construction of 35 single-family, relocation homes is to start in April, 1964, and work on non-relocation homes by July or August if paper work is completed, Jack Tolan of Barrett Homes told the agency.

Non-relocation homes will be built on the ridges and relocation homes and apartments within the bowl of the surrounding hills, Tolan said.

Johnson Gives Russia Warning

ROTTERDAM, The Netherlands (UPI)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson warned the Russians today that although the Soviet Union can win American friendship it "can also provoke our hostility."

Johnson and his wife arrived from Luxembourg. Johnson shook hands and handed out ballpoint pens, apparently unaware that a sudden wind shift might "give him a sniff" of poison gas which escaped from a chemical plant.

The cloud of gas at nearby Vlaardingen came from a burning chemical fertilizer plant. It swept toward the North Sea by strengthening winds, ending a six-hour threat to the 75,000 residents of the Rotterdam suburb.

Valeo, 47, is a native of Brooklyn. He joined the Library of Congress Foreign Affairs Department as an Asia specialist. Valeo was later loaned to the Senate foreign relations committee.

He was named to his new post shortly after Baker resigned.

Valeo has not been asked whether he has any outside business interests which might conflict with his new post.

FIGUIG, Morocco (AP)—An uneasy truce prevailed along the disputed Moroccan-Algerian frontier today after three days of heavy shelling at this Moroccan oasis.

Miners' Rescue In Crucial Stage

BROISTEDT, Germany (AP)—Boring of a shaft to rescue 11 men trapped since Oct. 21 in a flooded iron mine entered the crucial stage today.

With 60 feet to go, drilling was halted while workmen lined the shaft with concrete. A seven-inch supply shaft was being drilled alongside the rescue hole. Beams and aluminum bars were to be sent through it so the men could brace the ceiling of the abandoned gallery in which they took refuge when the mine was flooded.

Russians Still Block U.S. Convoy

HELMSTEDT, Germany (AP)—The U.S. Army began assembling a supply line today for 44 men in a 12-vehicle military convoy bottled up by Soviet armored cars at the Marienborn checkpoint into East Germany.

In West Berlin, 15 trucks and water tankers were ready to roll on a 110-miles trip over the autobahn through East German territory to Marienborn. A second U.S. military convoy of four trucks, two trailers and 56 men stood on the western side of Marienborn, presumably in reserve.

The 44-man convoy was halted yesterday morning. It failed in an attempt to break through early this morning when the Russians parked three armored personnel carriers pulled up behind the convoy and boxed it in. Then, as a heavy rain fell, a lone Soviet soldier sat in the open at a heavy machine gun pointing diagonally across the road.

Early this afternoon, a U.S. Army sedan drove supplies for the stranded convoy. The sedan was cheered by a group of West German children visiting the Iron Curtain as part of their school program.

The Americans had a hot breakfast at 6 a.m. and their morale was reported high.

In Washington, the blockade was viewed with more concern as each hour passed U.S. officials expressed fear it could grow into a serious confrontation.

American Woman Wins Nobel Physics Prize

STOCKHOLM (AP)—An American scientist today became the first woman to win a Nobel prize in physics in 60 years. She will share the prize with a second U. S. scientist and a West German.

Winding up the 1963 Nobel awards, a West German scientist and one from Italy were named to share the prize in chemistry.

The Swedish Royal Academy of Science announced these winners of the physics and chemistry prizes, each worth $51,158;

PHYSICS:

Mrs. Maria Goeppert-Mayer of the University of California at La Jolla and J. Hans D. Jensen of Heidelberg for their work in determining the nature of the shell of the atom's nucleus. She is the first woman residing in America to win a Nobel physics prize and the first to be named since Marie Curie of France shared the prize in 1903.

Eugene Wigner of Princeton University, who helped to lay the groundwork for the present advance study of nuclear physics. Wigner will get half the prize. Mrs. Goeppert-Mayer and Jensen will divide the other half.

CHEMISTRY:

Prof. Karl Ziegler of West Germany and Prof. Giulio Natta of Italy for their work with molecules that has helped to speed the development of useful plastics.

The formal award ceremony will be held Dec. 12 in Stockholm.

Mrs. Goeppert-Mayer, 57, was born in Kattowitz, Germany (now Poland). She took her doctorate at Goettingen, Germany, in 1930, and then was on the staffs of Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore for 10 years along with her American husband, Joseph Mayer, a professor of chemical physics.

Lawmaker Wants Classes To Help Save Marriages

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bachelor assemblyman proposed today that part of the court costs in divorce cases be used for public school marriage courses.

"By that I don't mean sex education," said attorney Pearce Young (D-Napa). "I mean education about the responsibilities and problems that go with marriage."

"The divorce rate in California is staggering," he said. "It has gone up over 50 per cent. In some counties, it has reached 75 per cent and in Los Angeles County, it's about 60 per cent."

Young wants a forthcoming legislative investigation of divorce, alimony, child support and custody to possibly come up with recommendations to guide judges.

Some judges are too harsh and others are lenient, he said.

"I've seen judges refuse one dime in alimony to women unless they were married at least 10 years and had children," he said. "On the other hand, I've seen judges take so much from a man's earnings he skips and leaves his ex-wife and kids on welfare."

Diem Brother Seeks Asylum, Is Turned Over To Junta

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Ngo Dinh Can, boss of central Viet Nam in the regime of his brother, President Ngo Dinh Diem, was turned over to South Viet Nam's new revolutionary government today after he sought asylum at the U. S. consulate at Hue.

U. S. officials were understood to have received assurances from revolutionary officials that Can "would not be lynched and would receive the due process of law."

Diem and another brother, Ngo Dinh Knu, his closest adviser, were captured by the rebels Saturday. The revolutionary government said they committed suicide, but reports have been widespread in Saigon that they were assassinated.

Unconfirmed reports circulated in Hue, capital of central Viet Nam, that 180 bodies had been found in a mass grave at Can's mission there.

Responsible Vietnamese officials said rows of filthy dungeons were found in an old French arsenal on property owned by Can just south of Hue. Mobs yesterday sacked and destroyed the home Can was building there.

Buddhist leaders, students and others in Hue long have charged that Can ruled his bailiwick as a bloody tyrant.

The military junta last night named former Vice President Nguyen Ngoc Tho to be premier of a new provisional government that will govern South Viet Nam under the watchful supervision of the military leaders.

Recognition by the United States and a number of other nations was expected to follow quickly the approval of the predominantly civilian government by the ruling military junta last night.

Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, 47, leader of the coup that ousted the Diem regime, said in a proclamation that a Republican form of government will be retained although the junta will be the country's final authority.

Minh, who assumed the position of chief of state, said his committee of generals will give its chief attention to direction of the war against the Communist Viet Cong.

Until revision of the 1956 constitution, Minh said, legislative and executive power will center in the junta but will be exercised by the provisional government. He explained that the junta will retain active authority over national defense, security and finances.

Tho, 55, was vice president in the Diem regime. A Buddhist, he tried to conciliate the dispute between his coreligionists and Roman Catholic President Diem but his efforts were frustrated by Diem's tough brother and chief adviser, Ngo Dinh Nhu.

The military junta holds to the story that Diem and Nhu committed suicide after their capitulation Saturday. The commonly accepted version of their deaths is that they were killed by soldiers after their capture.

Their bodies were reported being kept in a secret place awaiting burial instructions from two other brothers in Europe.

The junta apparently feared violent demonstration if the location of the bodies became known.

In Los Angeles, Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, wife and sister-in-law of the brothers, disclosed through an aide she had received word from Saigon both were "brutally killed." The informant was identified only as a top Vietnamese general.

Mrs. Nhu's 3 Children Land In Rome

ROME (AP)—The three younger children of Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu arrived in Rome today and drove off to an undisclosed destination with their uncle, Roman Catholic Archbishop Ngo Dinh Thuc.

The archbishop is in Rome for the Vatican Ecumenical Council. His car met the plane on which the children arrived from Bangkok, Thailand, in the company of an official of the U. S. Embassy there.

The children are two boys and a girl — Trac, 15; Wuynh, 11, and their sister, Le Quyen, 4.

Mrs. Nhu is expected here to meet them tomorrow. She is in Los Angeles with another daughter, Le Thuy, 18.

The children's uncle, President Ngo Dinh Diem, and their father, who was Diem's closest adviser, died in the military revolt in South Viet Nam last weekend. The children at the time were in Dalat, a hill resort 150 miles north of Saigon.

A U.S. Air Force plane flew them to Thailand last night. There they were put on a commercial airliner for Rome.

Mortgage Bonds Gift On Tap

A proposed gift to the city of Larkspur of $2,400 in mortgage bonds from landowner A. A. Tiscornia will be discussed by the city council at 8 p.m. tomorrow in city hall.

Also up for acceptance will be deeds from Tamalpais Union High School district and Greenbrae Marina Co. of rights of way to enable the city to extend Doherty Drive to Lucky Drive and Highway 101.

Piper will recommend addition of three street lights at the intersection of Magnolia Avenue and Doherty Drive, where traffic has increased considerably since the opening of Larkspur Plaza.

LOW BRIDGE FOR A GERENUK

A what? A gerenuk. What's that? It's a small gazelle-like beast native to the Ethiopia-Tanganyika area. What is unusual about this gerenuk, shown crouching under her father at the Bronx Zoo, New York, is that she is the firs gerenuk born in captivity. She's one month old now. (AP Wirephoto)

School Away From School Is Planned

About 250 children in Sausalito schools mave have a chance to attend a "school away from school" for a week next spring, under a plan being worked out by the county school office.

Charles Nagel, director of secondary education, and Warren Glass of Sausalito, chairman of the outdoor education advisory committee, reported the possibility at the Marin County Board of Education meeting last night.

Nagel said the outdoor education committee has selected Enchanted Hills in Napa County, an 80-acre site, owned by the Lighthouse for the Blind, Inc., as the site for the outdoor education program.

Nagel said he hopes to have about 250 children from Sausalito attend for one week. The cost is customarily borne partly by the parents, but children whose parents cannot afford to help pay for the trip can be aided by $12,000 which the state provided for compensatory education, he said.

Enchanted Hills has nine cabins and a semi-dormitory which can handle about 100 children at a time. Use of the facilities would cost about 61 cents per day per child. Additional cost such as food and cooks would bring the cost to about $12 to $14 per child for the week, he estimated.

Marin School Board Passes $65,000 Plan

Plans for a $65,000 final addition to Marindale School in Terra Linda won approval of the Marin County Board of Education las night.

Architect John Lyon Reid and his staff presented slides of the proposed addition to the west wall of the school for handicapped children. The addition will include two classrooms, a faculty room, a conference room, and washroom facilities.

The county board of education also:

1. Heard a report on the Bay Area Education Research Services from Dr. Albert Grant of Menlo Park, executive director.
2. Heard from Mrs. Adele J. Alpers of the special education committee that a site for a new school for deaf children has not yet been picked.
3. Hired William F. Marshall as part-time custodian for juvenile hall school; Nancy Mann as part-time work-experience student in the audio-visual department, and Mrs. Fredericka Moore as consultant for activity day in the rural schools.
4. Approved $45 bridge tolls and gasoline expense for each of six University of California students who are helping out in the San Quentin Prison teaching program.
5. Announced that annual open house in the county schools office will be from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Nov. 26.

Texts Available For Public View

Supplementary textbooks, approved each month by the Marin County Board of Education, will be available for public review two weeks before they are approved by the board.

This policy was announced last night by County School Supt. Virgil S. Hollis. He said that two weeks before each board of education meeting, he will have available a list of books that will come up for approval at the next meeting. Anyone interested may see the books in the school office professional library at the Civic Center.

Board member James A. Carrol suggested the books be placed in one section of the library for public perusal by anyone interested.

Books approved by the board of education each month serve as supplementary material for the county school office and a buying guide for school districts.

Burglary Charges Are Dismissed

Burglary charges against Alvis Lehman Johnson, of Marin City, were dismissed yesterday at a preliminary hearing in Gilroy. Justice Court. Judge John Klarich acted on a recommendation of the district attorney's office.

Johnson, 33, was arrested by Marin County sheriff's officers Saturday on a warrant from Gilroy. Johnson was charged with stealing five television sets from a Gilroy motel.

Corte Madera Is Running In The Red

By FRED WYATT

The Town of Corte Madera is "one jump ahead of the sheriff" because its general fund is overdrawn $104,000 and it has only $9,000 free to pay November bills, Town Treasurer John R. Vance reported last night.

The audience of 25 at a Corte Madera Town Council meeting laughed.

Vance urged adoption of Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow's recommendation a month ago to abolish the sales tax fund and put it in the general fund for a more realistic reflection of town finances.

"You have a phony set of records here," said Vance. "You're a year behind. The general fund has been in the red 15 months. This action (killing the sales tax fund) will regularize the thing."

Vance said $94,000 shown in the sales tax fund was meaningless because of the town's total financial position.

The council, however, declined to accept completely the recommendation. It finally voted to put 50 per cent of 1962-63 sales tax into the general fund. The financial transfusion would be about $65,000.

Brandow asked the council to make the 50 per cent policy permanent. Councilman Charles F. Pendleton disagreed: "Let future councils find out the hard way as we had to."

"You people have got to raise the money, not me!" said Vance. He suggested that to meet the Nov. 30 payroll "you ask the town attorney how to raise $50,000."

"If you want to borrow money you talk to the attorney after the meeting," retorted Mayor Edward W. Colthurst in moderate tones but with reddening face. "We don't intend to borrow any money."

Special Meeting

Almonte sanitary district directors will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow to discuss the district's "omnibus ordinance," an ordinance aimed to combine all the district laws into one, Richard J. Dawe, secretary, said today.

Two Assistants Granted Higher Salary Than Hollis

Two assistant superintendents in the county schools office last night won salary increases that make them higher paid than their boss, Supt. Virgil S. Hollis.

Assistant Superintendents Rudolph S. Kupfer and Edward R. Credell, who were getting $14,800 per year, now will get $16,134 per year. The board of education last unanimously approved the raises, on recommendation of a salary adjustment committee headed by Robert Randolph.

Superintendent Hollis, who draws $16,058, joined in the recommendation.

"Doesn't that mean their salary will be above yours?" asked James A. Carroll.

"Yes, they would," said Hollis. "In many cases, staff members are paid more than the county superintendent. My salary is set by the state. My feeling all along has been this should in no way jeopardize the salary of the entire staff. I'm just interested in getting top people on the staff."

"It's unfortunate that the entire matter is not in our hands," said Carroll. "It's lamentable that we couldn't adjust yours too, Dr. Hollis."

The board of education also approved raises for four teachers in the San Quentin teaching program: J. Lee Chaille from $8,900 to $9,300; Stanley Jacobs from $9,650 to $10,050; James Overturf from $10,150 to $10,550, and Philip Ruby from $9,400 to $9,800.

Novatan, 18, Faces Petty Theft Charge

Danny Lee Beard, 18, of 590 Louis Drive, Novato, was arrested Saturday on petty theft charges by Novato police, with bail set at $1,100.

Beard was charged with taking $10 from Novato Inn at 7410 Redwood Highway on Oct. 21.

Need For Tam District Expansion Is Outlined

By 1977 there will be 12,500 students in the Tamalpais Union High School District, Supt. Chester G. Carlisle predicted last night at a meeting of the district board.

The district will need new schools in Tiburon, San Geronimo, Marin City and Fairfax, and Redwood High School will have to be expanded.

Carlisle said the prediction is shaky for any time beyond five years. The figure was an average of results of various types of estimates, ranging from 9,600 to 17,600 students by 1977.

Leo Souza of the Reed School District board noted that the charts showed the greatest rate of growth in the San Geronimo area, but the largest magnitude of growth, because it starts with a larger base, in the Tiburon area.

Carlisle reviewed the proposal of the last meeting, calling for new schools as soon as possible at Tiburon and San Geronimo, leaving expansion of Redwood High School until about 1970.

Alternatives would be to build the two high schools and also expand Redwood's capacity to 3,000 students, he said. The Tiburon and San Geronimo capacities were set at 1,500 each.

Then Sausalito students would go to Redwood High School, rather than to the new Tiburon High School.

Another possibility, he said, is to expand the Redwood High School and wait until about 1968 to build the Tiburon school.

The Tamalpais Union High School District Board also:

1. Approved a raise in the hourly rate paid to Sandor Salgo of Palo Alto, leader of the adult school symphony orchestra, from $12.50 to $15 an hour.
2. Approved an increase in the pre-trial fee for attorney Richard Clarke for negotiations of the high school site in the San Geronimo Valley from $1,500 maximum to $2,750 maximum, after hearing Carlisle say he was hopeful for a settlement out of court.
3. Approved an early graduation request for Sherry Lynn Wilson of San Anselmo.

Two Youths Cited For Wild Drive

Two youths were taken to juvenile hall and a third was cited to the probation department yesterday after a wild drive in a car on Sunday through Fairfax streets.

Police Chief James Orr said the youths careened the car from side to side on Fairfax roads at about 1 p.m., almost hitting Harry Fong of 45 Manor Road who was working in his yard.

Two citizens chased the youths and stopped the car. But when they went to grab the keys, the youths backed up and were off again. The youths, 16 and 17 years old, lost control of the car and crashed into a tree in front of 139 Scenic Road.

A 17-year-old Woodacre youth was charged with conspiracy and violation of parole. A 16-year-old Fairfax youth was charged with reckless driving, driving without a driver's license, hit-run property damage, conspiracy, and violation of parole. The owner of the car, a 17-year-old San Anselmo youth, was cited to the probation department.

Dog Ordered Confined After Biting Boy, 4

Four-year-old Peter Stoud was bitten on the left leg by a dog about 4:12 p.m. Sunday, the boy's mother, Mrs. M. H. Stoud of 104 Oakdale Avenue, reported to police.

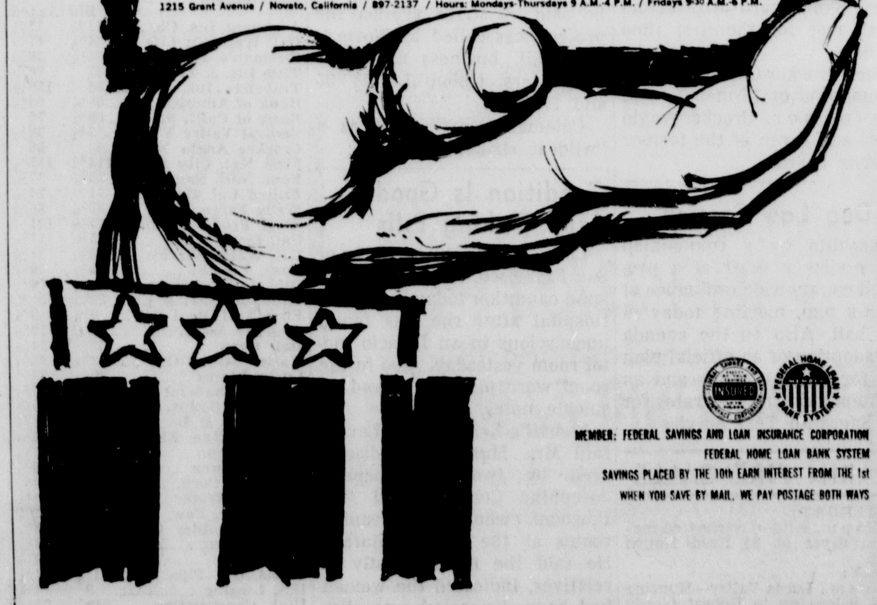

Police advised the owner of the dog, Fern Kennedy, 298 Oakdale, to keep her animal confined 14 days. The boy was treated by his doctor.

County Economic Survey Approved

Hiring Stanford Research Institute to make a comprehensive survey of Marin County economic development possibilities was approved today by four county supervisors.

The board of supervisors held up formal action for acquiescence of Supervisor George Ludy, absent on vacation but due back Nov. 13. However, Supervisor Peter Behr said Ludy is "100 per cent for it."

Start of the job's first phase, to cost $25,400 and take five months, is expected about mid-December.

The county has agreed to pay up to $12,000 but Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, first promoter of the idea, said private contributors, headed by the Draper Companies with $15,000, have brought the overall outlay by the county to no more than about $11,000.

Even if the two-phase survey finally costs more than the estimated $30,000, said Leydecker, further contributions will prevent any higher outlay by the county.

A letter of proposal from Neil T. Houston, manager for economic studies at Stanford Research Institute, detailed plans for the study. The institute first will identify industries which might find Marin an attractive setting and be welcome in the county, then on a basis of first-phase findings map a development program.

An important by-product, the report mentioned, might be suggestion of changes in county policies bearing on industrial development and ways of eliminating barriers to economic growth.

Chairman William D. Fusselman expressed himself as all for the study but said it basically resembled much done in the past and warned against too high hopes.

Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell later dug up figures showing that Marin County derives only 25 per cent of its assessed value from industry and public utilities, in contrast to San Francisco's opposite ratio of 75 per cent in these categories.

He said this is why Marin's property taxes must be high in spite of exceptionally low givernment cost per capita, 46th among California's 58 counties.

Apartments Pass Over Protests

Despite a protest from the Strawberry Recreation District board, Marin County planning commissioners yesterday approved a 204-unit apartment house project for Harbor Point.

The waterfront apartments are planned by Marin Land Development Co. on 20 acres on the northeast side of Strawberry Point.

The recreation district board objected to the "high density" development as causing congestion on roads. Principal Planner David Van Pelt said it was "perhaps unfortunate that the site had long ago been zoned for apartments," but called the plan a good one.

At request of developers, consideration of plans for reconstruction of the Harbor Point Beach Clubhouse on East Strawebrry Drive was postponed indefinitely.

Corte Madera Discusses Land Swap

A sort of swap of lands with Larkspur was suggested last night by the Corte Madera Town Council.

Twenty persons — 100 per cent of the owners and residents of a stretch of Elm Avenue — wrote the Corte Madera Council they wish to deannex their property from Corte Madera. Their land faces on a Larkspur city street and is surrounded on three sides by Larkspur, Town Clerk Nell Rugg said.

Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow suggested he discuss with Larkspur officials annexing from Larkspur a triangle of territory on Christmas Tree Hill and a portion of Corte Madera high canal land adjoining Lucky Drive near Redwood High School.

The council authorized him to do so.

Hassilev Wife Granted Divorce

Alex Hassilev, a member of the Limelighters, a folksinging trio, broke up his marriage at the same time the singing group split up, his wife, Ginger, told Marin Superior Court today.

Judge Leonard Thomas granted Mrs. Hassilev a divorce, awarded her custody of their child, born in 1960, and ordered Hassilev to pay $500 a month support for her and $200 a month support for the child for five years and $350 a month after that.

In addition, Mrs. Hassilev got the family home at 324 Edgewood Avenue, Mill Valley, a $15,000 bank account, another $5,000 in cash now and $10,000 to be paid by Jan. 30, and a 1959 Volkswagen.

Hassilev did not appear in the uncontested action.

Auto Is Stolen

Frank W. Gallagher, 2130 Elderberry Lane, Marinwood, told sheriff's officers yesterday his 1962 Impala Chevrolet had been stolen from his driveway. He said the doors and ignition were locked. An all-points bulletin was issued for the gray two-door car.

Novato Family Fight Ends In County Jail

A family argument early today ended with a Novato man attacking a police officer, according to police reports.

De Witt Michael Brownlee, 44, of 1433 Park Avenue, was booked into Marin County Jail on charges of displaying a firearm in a threatening manner, resisting arrest, disturbing the peace, assault and battery. Bail was set at $1,046.

Mrs. Maria T. Brownlee called police at 3 a.m. She told Sgt. Michael Lafferty and Officer Otto Haiungs that her husband was in the garage with a gun.

The officers entered the garage. Brownlee was there, a .38-caliber revolver lying near him. As Haiungs started to pick up the revolver, Brownlee grabbed it and threatened him with it, the officer reported. Seregant Lafferty stepped behind Brownlee, seized him and disarmed him.

To Hainung's immense relief, the gun was not loaded.

Foundation Night Success In Sausalito

Extreme low tide prevented the Harbor Queen from docking last night at the Sausalito Cruising Club and made the gangplank so steep to climb that party-goers had to form "human chains" to get up to the Sausalito Yacht Club; nevertheless, the fourth annual Sausalito Foundation Night was termed a "crashing success."

There were 500-to-600 people attending, said Alice T. Williams, president. About 70 rode the boat from San Francisco, including four persons from Nevada who thought they were going on a tour around the bay.

Mrs. Williams estimated that in excess of $2,000 was collected. It is to be put with city money toward purchase of a playground for the north end of Sausalito.

Mill Valley Retires Ailing Police Officer

Lt. Charles McCourtney is to be retired permanently from the Mill Valley police department for service-connected disability, the Mill Valley City Council, sitting as a retirement board, decided last night.

McCourtney, who is reported to have a heart condition, has been unable to work since July. Sgt. William Walsh told the council McCourtney has been with the city 23 years and urged "immediate action so that he can receive some sort of income." The retirement was recommend by Finance Director Thomas T. Behnke, who said the city will file for state workmen's compensation for McCourtney.

HER HIGHNESS — Nancy Niederholzer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Niederholzer, 30 Toussin Avenue, Kentfield, was crowned Homecoming Queen at San Jose State College where she is a junior majoring in speech and dramatic art. She will reign at the homecoming game with Arizona State University Saturday.

Cemetery Park Plan Speed Asked

The Novato Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission last night asked director Edmund Mahany to speed up plans for utilizing the old Novato Cemetery and adjacent land for a city park.

The Novato City Council asked the commission on Oct. 17 to make a study of the cemetery area for a park.

The commission voted to ask the council to get a legal opinion from Clark M. Palmer Jr., city attorney, on acquiring the cemetery.

Commissioners Donald Slezak and Mrs. Helen Greving were named to work with superintendents of Novato and San Jose school districts on using school sites for recreation, and revised rules and procedure for the commission.

The commission received a suggestion from the Novato Horsemen's Assn. that riding trails be required across the proposed freeway so horsemen could ride from the city to the horsemen's arena on Bugeia Lane.

Annexation Group Names Fifth Member

San Anselmo real estate man H. G. Marchant yesterday became the fifth member of the local agency formation commission, set up by state law to rule on future annexations and incorporations in Marin.

The four other members of the commission, previously selected by the county board of supervisors and representatives of the 10 cities, are Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, Assessor Bert W. Broemmel, Mayor M. E. (Babe) Silva of Novato, and Councilman Jan Paul Dyk of Sausalito.

The original four met at the Civic Center yesterday afternoon and selected Marchant as the fifth member from among several candidates.

The commission will meet at 8 a.m. Nov. 14 in room 413 of the Civic Center to elect a chairman and set up procedures on how districts that want to incorporate or annex should apply to the commission.

Marinite Is On Board Of Newly Formed Bank

The Crocker-Citizens board is composed of 18 members of the former Crocker-Anglo board and seven of the former Citizens board.

Dog Law Session

Sausalito city councilmen will review a draft of a proposed county-wide ordinance at their 8 p.m. meeting today in city hall. Also on the agenda are adoption of an official plan line for Rodeo Avenue and an ordinance raising taxi rates for the Sausalito Taxi Service.

Officials Await Word On Food Poison Tests

Marin County health officals today awaited final word on tests being made by the State Health Department in Berkeley on home-canned figs which may have caused the deaths of a San Rafael dentist and a Vallejo woman.

Dr. G. Thomas Quigg of 65 Fairway Drive, secretary of the California State Board of Dental Examiners, died Sunday in a San Francisco hospital. A friend of the Quigg family, Mrs. Josephine Lyons, 75, of Vallejo, died Oct. 28 in a Vallejo hospital.

Both deaths and the sickness of Quigg's wife, Edythe, were attributed to botulism poisoning by Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht Marin County health officer. The botulism was contained in figs given to the Quigg family by a Novato woman.

The tests being conducted on the figs so far have proved negative. However, Dr. Albrecht said the contaminated jar may have been disposed of before other jars were collected for the tests.

She said that the Quiggs received the only figs canned by the Novato woman.

Mrs. Virginia Porter, home economist with the Marin County farm and home adviser's office, today issued a set of warnings to home canners who suspect that their products have become contaminated.

She said suspected cans or jars should never be tasted to determine if they contain botulism. "It only take a drop of it to kill a person," she said.

Mrs. Porter made these suggestions:

1. Can only fresh fruit and vegetables which have been thoroughly washed and cleaned.

2. In canning low-acid vegetables and meats, poultry and fish, use a pressure cooker and process for the prescribed time.

3. If there is any doubt about the food, boil it for 10 minutes and while boiling smell, but do not taste. The odor of botulism is that of decomposition, usually putrid, cheesy or rancid.

4. Dispose of any food from a bulging or corroded can, from a jar with a bulging or corroded lid, or from a jar having any oozing from under the lid.

More detailed information on canning and prevention of botulism poisoning is available at the farm and home adviser's office in the Civic Center.

Board Agrees On School Land Transfer

Nine hundred and sixty-five acres of land in Tennessee Valley should be transferred to the Sausalito School District from the Mill Valley School District, trustees of both districts agreed last night.

Objections, previously raised, were again brought out by Ernest L. Friberg, Clifford Parlee and Harry Johnson, developers.

Following a formal agreement, Mill Valley Supt. G. R. McConnell said, the proposal will be forwarded by the county superintendent of schools to the state board of education and a hearing held to approve or disapprove.

If approved, the boundary change will then receive a hearing before the Marin County Board of Supervisors or the county board of education. This body may approve, disapprove or cause a special election to be held, said McConnell.

Johnson presented the boards with a petition signed by 25 persons requesting their property to be omitted from the Sausalito district. Twenty-five persons attended the meeting.

Construction Job Picketed

A lone picket marched back and forth in front of a Corte Madera construction today and held up work which might have been discontinued anyway because of rain.

James Coleman of Spiliotis and Co. said his firm's work had been temporarily halted on an apartment building at 1441 Casa Buena Drive because it had employed Richard L. Savel of Marin Insulation and Supply Co., San Rafael, to do some insulation work. Savel, an independent contractor, was not bound to join the union, he said. A strike against the project was called by Norman Campbell, business agent for Carpenters Union Locals 35 and 1710.

Coleman described it as a "wildcat strike."

Condition Is Good After Taking Pills

Laura Cook Murray, 39, of San Francisco, was reported in good condition today in Novato Hospital after she was found unconscious in an Ignacio motel room yesterday. Also in the room were pill bottles and 10 suicide notes.

Sheriff's Sgt. Edward Levine said Mrs. Murray was discovered by two housekeepers, Josephine Courpier and Mae Bowman, who were cleaning rooms at the Rancho Rafael. He said the notes, mostly to relatives, indicated the woman had been depressed since her husband died six years ago.

New Novato Brochure Planned

Novato's "planned approach to the future" will be stressed in a new city brochure, Clayton Randle, chairman of the brochure committee, told directors of the Novato Chamber of Commerce last night.

Dates for special events next year were announced by Ronald Lipe, chairman of the retail sales committee, as follows: Birthday Sale, Jan. 17, 18 and 19; Silver Dollar Days, March 10, 20 and 21; Sidewalk Sale, May 21, 22 and 23; Western Weekend Sale, June 18, 19 and 20, and Silver Dollar Days, Oct. 15, 16 and 17.

Carl Olsen, public relations director for Northwestern Pacific Railroad, will address the chamber of commerce of "Modern Transportation" at 7:45 a.m. Thursday at Cloud Five Restaurant. Thomas Ludcke, community development consultant for Pacific Gas and Electric Co., will meet with the industrial development committee and directors at 7 p.m. Nov. 25 at Tomahawk Lodge.

Man Held To Answer On Drug Charges

Duquesne A. Norton, 36, was held to answer in Marin County Superior Court on a charge of giving a dangerous drug to a minor, after a preliminary hearing yesterday in Marin Municipal Court before Judge Joseph G. Wilson.

Norton, of 110 Laurel Place, San Rafael, was arrested July 22 by San Rafael police after a West Marin boy, 17, said Norton had tried to sell him benzedrine.

Quentin Felons Used In Test On Wounds

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—The arms of seven convicts provided an impressive if tentative answer to the old question of whether a wound heals faster when it is bandaged than when it is left exposed to the air.

The San Quentin Prison inmates volunteered the experimental use of their arms by Cameron D. Hinman and Howard Maibach of the University of California, school of medicine, San Francisco.

Hinman and Maibach took slices of skin from each arm—tiny slices about one-fifth of an inch long, but deep enough to include the topmost skin layer and the layer beneath. It was painlessly done, of course, under local anesthesia.

Half of each man's wounds was covered over with polyethylene film which is the ultimate of air-excluding bandage, since it admits no air whatever. The other wound was left exposed.

On the third, fifth, seventh and ninth days after this slicing the scientists punched very tiny samples from wounds, sliced the samples and then studied the slices under high magnification.

The wounds which got no air began acquiring a covering of new, healthy skin so much more rapidly than the open wounds there was no need to measure to prove it, the scientists reported.

But measure they did and in all comparisons the bandaged wound healed two to five times faster than the exposed one. By the seventh day all wounds were covered over with new skin, however, and by the ninth all were completely healed.

The scientists were reserved in describing their experimental results in the technical journal, Nature. In the past, they said, excluding all air from wounds invited infection because tight dressings created moisture, which permitted microbes to multiply.

But now skin infections can be prevented with antibiotics, they continued, and there was not a single infection in their subjects, thanks to the generous use of an antibiotic solution.

"We do not know whether these observations will fall in the realm of biological curiosity or if they will have practical importance in the treatment of cutaneous (surface) wounds and burns in man."

The ultimate answer will be given by surgeons and physicians emboldened by this experiment and a previous one of George D. Winter, English experimental scientist, to keep the air out of the wounds and burns of large numbers of patients.

Winter's experiments emboldened Hinman and Maibach to undertake theirs in human beings. Winter experimented with pigs. He found pig wounds heal faster when their surfaces are moist than when they are dried out by exposure to air. Like the Californians, he prevented infection with antibiotics and excluded air from some wounds with plastic coverings.

Planning Aide Quits Post In Mill Valley

Resignation of John L. Castleman, vice chairman of the Mill Valley Planning Commission, was accepted by the city council last night and Richard J. Hiatt, a designer, was appointed to fill out the term.

Castleman, on the commission two and one-half years, resigned because of "pressures of business." The term expires Dec. 19, 1966. Hiatt is a member of the architectural advisory committee.

OBITUARIES

Henry Lehto Services Tomorrow

Graveside services for Henry Lehto, 76, of 830 B Street, San Rafael, will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

Lehto, a retired laborer who formerly worked for O'Conner Construction Co., died Saturday at a local hospital after a long illness.

A native of Finland, he came to the United States in 1905, to California in 1929, and Marin County in 1940.

He was a bachelor and has no known survivor.

MRS. FLETCHER

Funeral services for Mrs. Myrtle Boyle Fletcher, 80, mother of Samuel A. Fletcher of Strawberry, will be held tomorrow in Portland, Ore.

Mrs. Fletcher died Saturday after a short illness in a Portland hospital. She had lived in Portland many years.

She is survived by her husband, Allen G. Fletcher; two sons, Samuel and Robert Fletcher, the latter of Los Angeles, and four grandchildren.

MRS. HANSON

Memorial services will be held Saturday for Mrs. Bertha Nordquist Hanson, 84, of 261 Brookside Drive, San Anselmo. Mrs. Honson died Saturday in a local hospital of a heart attack.

The Independent-Journal yesterday incorrectly listed her address as 211 Brookside Drive.

Big TV Tower Is Approved

One big television antenna is better than a forest of little ones, the Marin County Planning Commission decided somewhat reluctantly yesterday.

Developers of San Marin near Novato joined Western California Telephone Co. in asking permission to put up a 40-foot steel TV tower on a hillside in San Marin Unit 4. They assured the commission that homes in the area would be required to hookup television sets to the central tower by underground cables, rather than each home sprouting its own antenna.

Commissioner William F. Upton felt the tower might be a poor thing to look upon from the top of the hill.

But the commission agreed television might be "an adjunct to modern living if not a necessity" and approved the tower.

Burglary Solved Before Reported

Sheriff's officers yesterday learned they had solved a burglary before it was reported.

Deputy Sheriff Dennis Shine Saturday night saw two 14-year-old boys walking down a road in Sleepy Hollow carrying a bookcase. When he stopped his patrol car, the boys ran. He caught one, and learned the name of the other. They admitted stealing the cabinet from a house under construction.

Yesterday Healdsburg contractor Boris P. Lebedeff reported the cabinet missing from a house he was building at 69 Ravin Road, Sleepy Hollow.

Drainage Assessment Decision Is Put Off

No decision was made on drainage assessments at last night's well-attended meeting of the Tiburon Sanitary District board of directors, according to secretary Robert A. Sterling.

Sterling explained that directors, not being in the drainage business, do not want to take action until the Tiburon Peninsula Club, the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, and the residents of the Cove and Belvedere Lagoon areas take the initiative.

San Rafael Puts Off Underground Utility Decision

Council Delays Action On Plan In Which City Would Have To Pay

City action to clear the way for underground utilities on two blocks of A Street was postponed another two weeks last night by the San Rafael City Council.

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. proposes to remove overhead lines from a point 60 feet north of Julia Street to Third Street, in connection with supplying service to the new Wells Fargo Bank building which is under construction.

Only two property owners would be affected: the bank and the city. The terminal from which city-owned underground power lines on Fourth Street draw their supply would be relocated.

The council delayed action a week ago to learn the cost. Last night, without inquiring the cost, it delayed again to allow City Atty. David Menary Jr. further time to study the city's responsibility.

The delay irked Councilman L. H. Bud Baar.

"We were all very hot to get this underground ordinance enacted," said Baar, referring to an ordinance adopted in August which calls for all downtown utility lines to be put underground over a 15-year period. "It's all right when the average guy in town has to pay it; but when the city has to pay it, some of us want to wiggle out of it."

The council passed to print an amendment increasing truck weight limits, drafted to meet objections to the city's new trucking ordinance — but found the change failed to satisfy the Engineering and Grading Contractors Assn., at whose behest it was drawn.

The amendment raises the gross weight limit of trucks on designated routes from 11 tons to 13 tons, and permits trucks up to the state maximum of nine tons per axle on certain downtown streets with special permits.

Attorney Richard V. Bettini, appearing for the Engineering and Grading Contractors Assn., declared: "We really don't think these changes solve the problem. . . The thing on its face appears discriminatory." He said the attorney general had been asked yesterday for an opinion on legality of such ordinances.

"I'm amazed!" exclaimed Public Works Director Norris Rawles. "I met with the EGGA and they all agreed to this."

Councilman Fred E. Jensen, himself a retired excavating contractor, agreed with Bettini that the ordinance appeared discriminatory and felt weight limits should be on the basis of weight per axle or per square inch.

City Engineer Dominic Selmi predicted that "within a year, the new Chula Vista Avenue will be full of potholes" from the many heavy trucks hauling dirt from building sites excavated in Chula Vista Heights.

This alarmed Councilman Harry A. Barbier, who helped promote an assessment district to bring Chula Vista up to city street standards.

"Why didn't we built it better?" he demanded.

"You couldn't ask the property owners to pay for a strong enough street for all those big trucks," said Selmi. "The streets are designed for passenger cars."

With Vice Mayor Charles W. Aby wielding the gavel in the absence of Mayor John F. McInnis, the council whipped through its agenda in an hour and one-half.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

1. Passed to print an ordinance for annexation of the 300-acre Pimental ranch, on Lucas Valley Road beyond Terra Linda. No objection was voiced at the public hearing. Deputy City Clerk W. C. Cornwell said he had received none.
2. Upheld planning commission conditions for a three-lot subdivision by Melba Kirschner on the west side of Prospect Avenue. Realty broker William Timmer appeared to reinforce her objection to being required to lay 300 feet of six-inch water main to get water to one of the lots.
3. Set for public hearing Dec. 2 application for annexation of Dr. Aubrey Humphries' property in Bret Harte Heights.
4. Accepted the engineer's report of completion of White Oaks 2 Assessment District.
5. Approved some modifications in Marin Bay Assessment District No. 2, and released from a flood easement two lots in Marin Bay Asessement District No. 1.
6. Authorized City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen to buy a compact car for the police department through county purchasing, and awarded Ames Ford Sales, low of three bidders, contract for a four-door sedan for the fire department at $2,179.
7. Introduced an amendment to the building ordinance reducing the thickness of safety glass in sliding doors to conform to Federal Housing Administration standards.
8. Put over to Nov. 18 discussion of an amendment to setback requirements.
9. Ordered a stop sign on Fremont at Marquard Avenue.
10. Put over to Nov. 18 action on Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa's request for a lieutenant and sergeant, Councilman Jensen noting that Mayor McInnis "was very much interested in this and should be here when we discuss it."
11. Appointed John D. LaNoue, Lloyd C. Brooks and R. W. Andrade to the board of review. The civil service ordinance specifies their terms will be six years.
12. Held over action on reorganizing the board of examiners and appeals, on request of the city manager.
13. Set for hearing Nov. 18 appeal by Marie Rivers, realty broker, on behalf of Harry Kirsner to the planning commission's requirements for curbs and gutters for a three-lot subdivision on Hillside Avenue.
14. Raised the salary of David DeBiel, acting city planner, to $600 per month on recommendation of the city manager.

Space, Cost Of City Hall Due Study

The San Rafael City Council will tackle the twin problems of space requirements and cost in the proposed new city hall at a special meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the old city hall.

Acting Mayor Charles W. Aby called for the special meeting, with the committee of architects hired to design the hall to be present, after last night's regular council session.

The architects last month presented a schematic master plan for a city hall of 31,830 square feet — roughly one-third bigger than the 24,000 square feet recommended by Ebasco Services after a study early last year. Total cost of the larger hall was estimated at $1,059,240. The council had been counting on total cost of about $700,000.

Tam Homecoming Dance Friday

Tamalpais High School will hold a homecoming dance from 8 to 11 p.m. Friday in Ruby Scott Auditorium.

A homecoming queen will be crowned at the dance, to be chosen from five nominees: Jill Rutledge, Stephanie Wickam, Linda Goodfellow, Veronica Gelardi and Georgine Crawford, all Mill Valleyans.

The football team will play Novato High School at 2 p.m. Saturday on the College of Marin field.

Trustees At Impasse On Arts Building

The Marin Junior College District board last night reached an impasse on further planning for a fine arts building.

What to include and leave out of the building stumped board members who met with representatives of the architectural firm of Falk and Booth.

Board member Elizabeth M. Deedy said, "There is no point to pursue this until someone clarifies our thinking." She was referring to a consultant at Stanford University who plans fine art buildings.

The inclusion of a 3,000-square foot radio and television broadcasting facility in the building was questioned by Mrs. Deedy.

She asked, "To what extent has a faculty study been made on the need for radio and television education? There has been so little real study that we probably would not lose anything if we left television and radio out of this building and put it on our second campus."

Board member Kent O. Seymour said, "I just don't think we can provide a program equal to what is being offered at San Francisco State College."

The board, which also reviewed plans for the student center building, decided to meet with architects again next week when further information on the consultant will be obtained.

Board members Robert E. Oliver and Joseph D. Gargiulo were absent.

Residents Of Ross Line Up Against School Unification

By ELLEN BRY

Ross residents last night lined up in a solid phalanx against inclusion of their elementary school district in the proposed unification of the Tamalpais High School District.

A hearing of the augmented Marin County Committee on School District Organization had a full house in the Ross School. The crowd again and again applauded speakers who were against unification into one large district.

"Feeling is running so High" that some residents may be afraid to ask questions or speak out in favor of unification because they would have to "go back and face the neighbors," said one spectator of the 82 who filled the school auditorium.

The meeting was one of 11 scheduled in elementary school districts within the Tamalpais High District boundaries. Tonight at 8 o'clock, a hearing will be held in Bel Aire School in the Reed School District.

The county committee proposal is for residents to vote out of existence present elementary and high school governing boards and boundaries. Instead, seven trustees would be elected to govern 189 square miles of district, unifying kindergarten through high school under the one governing board.

The meeting last night was opened by a formal five and one-half page statements against unification from the Ross School District board. Trustee William A. Niccolls read only the concluding paragraph, but points in the statement included:

"The scope of the work of the seven new trustees will be so greatly increased that they will have little time for attention to selection of curriculum, teachers, special courses or other local problems. Inevitably, all effective control will pass from elected trustees to professional educators who more than likely will not be as responsive to local wishes."

Instead of one unified district the statement proposed division of the area presently within the Tamalpais District boundaries into three unified districts, with Ross becoming a part of the Redwood High School attendance area unified district.

"The chief concern of this board is not to give Ross children the most administratively efficient education, nor even the cheapest education, but rather to give them the best education within our power and resources," the statement said.

The district has one school with 511 pupils on Lagunitas Road in Ross. Supt. William W. Monahan is also the principal.

John E. Cahill of Kentfield, chairman of the Citizens Committee Against Unification of the Tamalpais Union High School District as a Whole, won a solid round of applause when he suggested combining some smaller elementary school districts (unionizing) instead of combining all elementary districts and the high school district.

He proposed combining Ross, Kentfield, Larkspur and Reed districts, or a "three-way split" unification of the present Tam area, with each unified district centered around the attendance area of one of the present high schools.

He struck out at a proposed operating tax of $4.01 for the unified district, calling it a "political move" to keep it low. Cahill said such a rate would not adequately operate the proposed district.

Cahill told the audience there would be "loss of lay control" in such a large district and called the proposal a "monster district."

With applause for anti-unification views echoing around her, Mrs. O. R. Turney of Ross got to her feet to say that "I'm a voice crying in a wilderness," but to oppose unification into smalier areas as it would 'curtail high school services.'"

Later in the evening she proposed a north-south unification into two districts for better coordination of classes through high school and better utilization of funds.

Jack L. Mengel of Corte Madera, vice chairman of the county committee, had a restless audience when, in general terms, he listed some of the services which might be gained or bettered through unification. He included counseling and psychological guidance, testing, health, dental, transportation, library services, more specialized personnel, better foreign language program continuing through high school, better purchasing, planning, and a greater financial base for operating schools.

He was heckled from the audience to supply specifics which might be gained by the Ross district.

"May I continue on?" he asked the audience.

"No, no," they answered and he sat down. He was formally asked to continue by committee chairman Earl Marshall of Novato.

"A unified district could achieve the standards we have now and even surpass them" with a $4.01 operating rate or less, Mengel said. Savings might be realized by stopping the overlap of some services due to multiplicity of districts, he said.

"Mr. Mengel has spoken of the pie-in-the-sky," declared A. Crawford Greene Jr., a Ross trustee.

"I'm against anything I've heard tonight," Greene said.

Under unification, areas which might not approve bond issues or tax raises perhaps would outvote those willing to pay and lower education standards below the Ross level, John Scott of Ross said.

Emphasis at the meeting on elementary school education, not on possible benefits of better coordinated curriculum through high school, was decried by Mrs. Robin Galloway of Kentfield.

"You can raise children as jewels—but they have to go out into the world," she said.

No Protests Filed In Oil Proposal

No navigational protest has been filed against Shell Oil Co.'s plan to explore oil nine miles off Point Reyes Beach, the Army Corps of Engineers reported yesterday.

Shell started exploration on its first offshore site, three-and-a-half miles off Point Reyes, but has suspended operations pending the arrival of a larger exploration barge.

Shell holds a federal lease on most of the 118,300 submerged acres beyond the three-mile limit west and south of the Point Reyes peninsula.

Assam, bordered by Burma, China, Bhutan and East Pakistan, is almost cut off from the main body of India. A narrow strip of land between Bhutan and East Pakistan connects the state with the rest of India.

Parking Ticket Hike Tabled In Mill Valley

A proposal to raise parking meter tickets in Mill Valley to $2 was tabled last night by the city council with but one peep from a score of merchants present, apparently on hand to protest.

"We have a spokesman on the council — Monardo," said liquor store owner Si J. Weil.

Councilman George D. Monardo said, "I can't see how the ordinance justifies an increase. We're basically here to help the merchants of the community."

Mrs. Janice Hoyt of Hoyt Homes, 1 El Paso, told Councilmen she wanted an assist in finding parking spaces for El Paseo businessmen who have no offstreet parking.

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks suggested the chamber of commerce try to work out something for El Paseo tenants.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

1. Adopted an ordinance abandoning a 140-foot strip of land on Manor Drive near the tennis courts.
2. Denied a request from Mrs. Kenneth A. Hulme to subdivide and rezone land at 451 Ethel Avenue from commercial to duplex.
3. Overruled a protest of Joseph M. Redman and the Community Church objecting to annexation of their lands above Elinor Avenue to the city, and introduced an ordinance to annex 22.53 acres, including their properties.
4. Agreed to a State of California cooperative personnel service job classification and salary study at a cost of $1,750, and set 8 p.m. Nov. 13 to meet with Mill Valley Employees Assn. representatives to discuss personnel resolutions.
5. Set up a selection committee to choose a park superintendent.
6. Accepted a bid from Lee-Mac Paving Co., Inc., Corte Madera, to pave 4,000 square feet of paths at the golf course at 31 cents a foot.
7. Introduced an ordinance to reduce engineering inspection fees from 4 to 3 per cent.
8. Set for Dec. 2 hearing on rezoning Scott 1, Scott 3, Doud-Oehler and Edna Maguire School playground annexations.

11. Continued to Nov. 18 a report on the legality of the Old Mill Park site for a proposed new library.

San Jose Is Working On Unification

San Jose Elementary School District board is proceeding with plans for unification with Novato Unified School District as fast as it can, trustees told the audience at a school board meeting at Loma Verde School last night.

Mrs. Eric Selberg of 1333 Monte Maria asked if the board were going ahead with unification and how fast.

Trustees Alan Swabacker said the board wanted answers to several questions which were not answered in the Booz-Allen and Hamilton report on North Marin school district reorganization.

Chairman Daniel Barber assured her the board was "working on it" in spite of delay over the unanswered questions.

"We plan on going to Sacramento to make plans for the unification," Barber promised.

The San Jose School District board also:

1. Approved changing the route of the school buses to Pacheco School.
2. Agreed to a five-section meeting, with each board member attending one group discussion, on Nov. 18. Groups will discuss recreation, curriculum, finance, etc.
3. Heard from Supt. Ralph Giovanniello that the district has received four of the six portable classrooms which it was scheduled to have in September. The others are due tomorrow, Giovanniello said.

564-Unit Apartment Plan Is Presented

Plans for a 564-unit community of apartments, houses and hops in the Pimentel Ranch near Novato were presented yesterday at the first of two public hearings before the Marin County Planning Commission.

Proposed as a "new concept" in suburban development, the project, called Marin Highlands, would be on 245 acres between Vineyard Road and Wilson Avenue in West Novato.

Thomas E. Schaal, San Rafael attorney representing Presidio Development Co. of Novato, said the project would provide "a variety of living needs and maintain open areas."

But West Novato homeowners told the commission they don't want apartments or small lots in their area. Ten of them wrote letters of protest, and about 300 signed a petition asking retention of at least 10-000-square foot lots in the neighborhood.

Schaal said more than 300 lots would range from the 10,000-square-foot size to two acres and 157 lots would be smaller "cluster" developments on hillsides."

Principal Planner David Van Pelt said the development would avoid any extensive scarring of hillsides, "if carefully done."

A school and five-acre commercial center are included in the plan prepared by engineer Carlos E. Gonzalez of San Rafael.

Second hearing will be Nov. 18 in the Civic Center.

Belvedere Reads Two Ordinances

The Belvedere City Council heard the first reading of two new ordinances at last night's meeting.

One would require new construction on property within 300 feet of a sewer line to tie into the city sewer system. Residents with septic tanks which become inoperable would also be required to tie in.

Councilman E. G. Weed voted against introducing the ordinance, maintaining it would work a hardship on new construction planned for lower Belvedere Avenue. Mayor Robert P. Watkins said state and county health departments were discouraging the use of septic tanks.

The second ordinance would restrict the use of the community hall. For non-official functions, Belvedere residents could use it free; non-residents would pay a $25 fee. If admission is charged, Belvedere residents would be charged $15 and non-residents $40.

Resignation of Frederick Jandrey from the planning commission was accepted. Merritt K. Ruddock was re-appointed to replace him. Ruddock had previously resigned to travel and Jandrey had been appointed to complete his unexpired term.

San Francisco Calls May Become Toll-Free

San Rafael to San Francisco may become a toll-free phone call, but base rates for telephones would go up if the Public Utilities Commission approves a rate change application submitted by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Under the proposed change, the "dial one" and extra charge for San Rafael phone users would be eliminated on calls to downtown San Francisco, Belvedere, Sausalito and Richmond.

Mill Valley customers would be able to call some points beyond Richmond and beyond downtown San Francisco and Sausalito customers could call Berkeley toll free, Gordon Davenport, San Rafael district manager for the phone company, explained.

The basic monthly rate, however, would go from $4.80 to $6.75 for single line residential phones and from $10.25 to $14 for business phones.

The application was submitted to the PUC Friday.

Innocent Plea In Video Theft Case

Alvis Lehman Johnson, 33, of Marin City, pleaded innocent Friday in Gilroy Justice Court to a charge of stealing five television sets from a Gilroy motel, and was scheduled for a preliminary hearing this afternoon.

Johnson was arrested Friday morning at his home by Marin County sheriff's deputies on a warrant from Gilroy.

Second In Class

Sanford C. Johnson of 323 Laurel Place, San Rafael, graduated second in a class of 71 from the Army Armor School at Fort Knox, Ky. Johnson was commissioned a second lieutenant after graduating from the University of California in June.

Two Intoxicated Drivers Fined

Two men were fined in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving.

Marion Smolen, 37, of Santa Rosa, was fined $193 after pleading guilty to the charge. He was arrested Sunday by the California Highway Patrol on Highway 101 north of Novato.

Harold Thomas Dover, 63, of San Francisco, pleaded no contest and was fined $166. He was arrested Oct. 17 by Ross police on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Ross.

Filling Four Richardson Bay Tideland Lots Is Approved

Filling of our tidelands lots in Richardson Bay was approved by the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday by a 3-2 vote.

Tom E. Nowell of Mill Valley was given permission to fill the lots between Yolo Street, the Saucelito Canal and Richardson Bay Bridge. He assured the commission the fill "will not violate flood control plans."

Apartment houses and a marina are planned by Nowell, but he said it would be at least a year before he would be ready to build.

Commissioners Felix M. Warburg and William F. Upton voted against approval. Earlier yesterday they were out-voted when the commission postponed indefinitely any action on re-establishing pier and bulkhead lines at the bay.

Five commissioners agreed that George Kappas should submit better plans for a boat storage and repair building.

Senior Planner Sidney Shaw said there were already "questionable improvements" on Kappas' land.

Kappas' request was continued to Nov. 18.

The Marin County Planning Commission Also:

1. Approved a use permit for a Carmelite Sisters convent at the northwest end of Unionstone Drive in Marinwood. The buildings would be located on one acre of a 500-acre site owned by the Catholic Church.
2. Continued indefinitely plans for the Sea Cove subdivision on 18 acres near Paradise Cove.
3. Continued to Nov. 18 a use permit request for 81 apartments on four acres on Alemeda del Prado in Loma Verde, planned by Broderick Investment Co.
4. Continued to Nov. 18 zoning of the 425-acre Short Ranch for residential-agricultural use.
5. Approved plans for a 70 by 100-foot steel one-story storage and sales building for Graham Lumber Co. at 279 Jacoby Street, south of San Rafael.
6. Approved amendments to the Marin City master plan to regulate outdoor living areas and decks and reduce heights of buildings from six to three stories.
7. Approved remodeling a quonset hut at 242 Shoreline Highway, Tamalpais Valley, into a restaurant and bar requested by Dunya Chernenko.
8. Approved addition of a storeroom to the Stinson Beach Community Center.
9. Approved a United States Plywood Co. warehouse addition at 2736 Redwood Highway, south of San Rafael

Nursery School Owners Object

Nursery school operators, meeting in San Rafael Saturday, objected to a new state provision that will require them to publish admission criteria, including their position on "anti-discrimination."

Members of the North Bay Branch of the California Assn. of Nursery Education met at the San Rafael Cooperative Nursery School.

Elizabeth Meredith, owner of Woodside Way School, Ross, and president of the North Bay branch, was authorized to seek clarification of the new law which takes effect Jan. 1, 1964.

Corte Madera To Help Fence Cost

The Corte Madera Town Council agreed last night to pay one-third of the cost of a 260-foot fence between the high and low canals off Hickory Avenue to protect Neil Cummins School youngsters.

The Parent-Teacher Assn. traffic committee wrote it would pay one-third and Larkspur School District, one-third.

Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow estimated a three-foot-high chain link fence would cost $791. He said the work would be started as soon as possible.

'Showdown' Arrives For Tiburon Parking Problem

Marin County planning commissioners decided yesterday it is time for a "showdown" on parking problems in downtown Tiburon.

Major Tiburon property owner Fred G. Zelinsky has a responsibility to provide enough parking spaces along the town's Main Street, the commission ruled.

Zelinsky asked permission to expand the Dock Restaurant without any more parking spaces. Principal Planner Sidney Shaw said the expansion would require 22 spaces. In an elaborate listing of available parking on other Zelinsky property, Shaw figured where the spaces could be found.

"This is a good opportunity for Mr. Zelinsky to stop and face the problem," said Commissioner William F. Upton. Commissioner Felix M. Warburg said Zelinsky should go a step further and put all new spaces on the same side of Tiburon Boulevard, to avoid future left-turn problems.

Commissioners George Scott and H. C. Hankins voted against the requirement.

Halloween Leftovers Still Tossed Around

Halloween leftovers were served up last night on a car windshield in San Rafael.

While raw eggs were the order on Halloween, a deviled egg was thrown at a car being driven by Mary Jans of 64 Ridge Avenue, San Rafael, shortly after 9 p.m. at Grand and Belle Avenue.

Wear On Tires

NEW YORK (UPI)—A single right-angle turn at 13 miles-per-hour can scrape off as much car tread as 10 miles of straight-ahead driving at normal speed, reports Tyrex Inc., the association of rayon tire cord producers.

Pickup Goes Into Ditch, Driver Hurt

Carroll T. Varner, 54, laborer of 50 Bayview Avenue, Novato, suffered forehead and right leg bruises at 9 p.m. Saturday when a half-ton pickup truck he was driving east on Atherton Avenue near School Road, Novato, plunged into a ditch and ran through 20 feet of barbed wire fence.

He was treated at Novato Hospital. He evidently had dozed at the wheel, reported California Highway Patrolman K. W. Beadleston.

Burglar Knows Where To Go For Narcotics

"This time the burglar knew what he was doing," Dr. D. Gwynn Thompson said ruefully today as he surveyed his ransacked office at 2405 Las Gallinas Avenue, Marinwood.

He said a sliding door to a patio was forced open and all narcotics, sedatives and tranquilizers, along with syringes and needles, were taken. Total value of the loss was unknown, but "considerable," according to Thompson.

Thompson's office was broken into Aug. 30, but the thief that time missed most of the narcotics, taking instead medicines which were more dangerous, including allergy samples scheduled for use on specific patients.

Some of the immunization samples and gamma globulin were taken in last night's burglary, too, Thompson said.

Reports To Police

A San Rafael mother told police last night that a heavy set man wearing a blue shirt and gray pants exposed himself to her 4 and 6-year-old daughters at 4:30 p.m. The man posed as a washing machine repairman and got the two girls to show him where the laundry house was located, she said.

Librarian Quits Job In San Rafael

San Rafael Library trustees last night accepted the resignation of Myra M. Mainwaring, children's librarian, with regret and directed that she be written a letter of appreciation.

Miss Mainwaring, who lives at 107 Marin Stree, San Rafael, has been on the library staff since November, 1942. She has been children's librarian since April, 1946.

Open house will be held at the library during Book Week, next Tuesday through Saturday.

Retiring? Get more "life" out of your life savings!

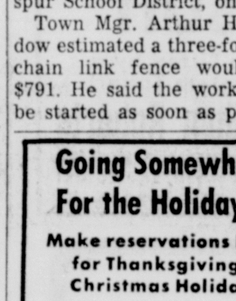

When you retire, you are faced with the problem of providing an adequate income during the remaining years of your life.

You could invest your capital in "safe" securities and live off the interest. But you may be forced to dip into capital to supplement the interest these securities provide.

This brings up another, more pressing problem. How do you make sure that you will not outlive your capital?

If you invest in a Manufacturers Life Annuity, you can use your capital safely to increase the income you receive. These annuities scientifically use both capital and interest to provide worry-free income as long as you live. If you are 65 when you buy your annuity, your annual income could be as high as 9.2% of the amount you invest.

Annuities are available in many forms. The Man from Manufacturers can explain the advantage of each—and help you choose one to fit your needs. Call him today.

BOARD OF DESIGN BACKED BY COUNCIL

Corte Madera Expresses Confidence In Group After Former Mayor Makes Charge Of Bias

The Corte Madera Town Council expressed confidence in the town board of design last night after former Mayor Bruce Goecker asked whether the town is being "short changed" by a board that may be biased.

The board includes Chairman William Gilbert, structural engineer; Harold Wagstaff, planning commissioner and designer, and Peter Lenz, architect.

Goecker wrote councilmen on Oct. 27: "Doesn't it appear to you that the town is being short changed by not having the thought and intelligence of a board of design who can decide a matter composed of three members who would be unbiased and without a conflict of interest?

"It is not enough that the members abstain from voting on their own projects to be unbiased as this leaves only two members to act for the town."

The letter called attention to the board's minutes for Sept. 23, showing Wagstaff abstained from a matter involving his firm, and Lenz abstained from an item his firm had submitted.

"I have faith in the board," said Mayor Edward W. Colthurst after the letter was read.

"I would take issue with Mr. Goecker that the board is guilty of 'you scratch my back, I'll scratch yours'," said Councilman Charles F. Pendleton.

"The board has been unjustly attacked," said Councilman Norman R. Barnett.

Councilmen Albert E. Kogler and Robert I. LaDow were absent.

The Corte Madera Town Council Also:

1. Awarded Dexter Rambler of San Rafael, lowest of 11 bidders at $1,694, a contract for a building department car; and Ceccotti and Son, Corte Madera, lowest of six bidders at $6,500.75, a contract for a retaining wall, sidewalk, curb and gutter on the north side of Paradise Drive west of Harbor Drive.

2. Approved no-parking zones near the firehouse on Willow Avenue and adopted an ordinance for 15-minute parking limit on Tamalpais Drive near town hall.

3. Accepted completion of curb and gutter on the north side of Meadowsweet Drive west of Sanford Street and voted to seek county matching funds next year to widen Paradise Drive from Harbor Drive to El Camino Drive.

4. Approved appointment of Clarence E. Lyons of San Bruno as assistant town engineer at $693 a month to start Nov. 12.

5. Accepted Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow's recommendation to buy a tilt-bed trailer to carry the town roller at $1,300—$700 less than was budgeted.

6. Heard special counsel John Rooney report two suits to block rezoning of the quarry site from apartment to duplex have been withdrawn by Kaehler-Farrar Development, Inc., which is preparing a fourth set of plans for apartments there.

7. Accepted a bill for services for July 16 through Oct. 31 by Town Atty. Sherrod S. Davis at $20 an hour and by special counsel Rooney at $10 an hour, for a total of $359.05, including $14.05 expenses.

8. Continued a report on teen dances, requests by six employees for waivers to live out of town, and settlement for Public Works Supt. Walter Nagel's "on call" services to Nov. 18.

9. At request of three residents voted to spend $300 next March to fence the outfall of Lagoon 1 to prevent children's injuring themselves. "Unchecked trespassing" by youngsters in the area was reported in a letter from Rhoda M. Denton of 42 Chickasaw Court.

10. Adopted the County Assn. of Fire Departments' new "over in" protection program but banned aid to the county department except on Marin Municipal Water District lands.

11. Approved the concept of annexing a portion of Highway 101 and instructed Brandow to notify the State Division of Highways; and adopted an ordinance to increase the maximum sign size in C-4 commercial zones from 100 to 200 square feet.

12. Ordered a stop sign at the southeast corner of Prince Royal and Paradise drives.

13. Accepted Brandow's recommendation to charge a $4 dog license fee, double the old rate, under the county animal control ordinance.

14. Heard Attorney Davis report the town may not disapprove of the design of a proposed division of motor vehicles building because it will be on state-owned land. The town could review the recently-built California Highway Patrol building because it is on private property, said Davis.

Halloween Theft Of $5 Bills Reported

The Holloween theft of three $5 bills, a blank but endorsed check and a brown leather-covered Sony eight-transistor radio from the glove compartment of his car was belatedly reported to Larkspur police yesterday by Walter D. Bealey of 12 Baltimore Avenue.

Bealey said the car was parked inside his unclosed garage, reported Police Chief Howard Clark.

Mayor Silva Says He'll Run Again

Mayor M. E. (Babe) Silva of Novato today announced that he would be a candidate for re-election in next April's municipal election.

His announcement came as no surprise.

In the other two council positions that will be open, John Angeloni has announced that he will not be a candidate and Everett Pozzi has not made any commitment yet.

Terms of Lucile Cannon and of Robert Carrow, who was appointed last week, run to April, 1966.

James Line, a British Naval surgeon, first proved in 1747 that the addition of fresh limes and other citrus fruits to the diets of seamen would prevent scurvy.

Stern Restraints Required For Halloween Hooligans

Marin's two largest cities must recall in shame Halloween of 1963.

In both San Rafael and Novato, gangs of young hoodlums defied police as they littered main streets with eggs and rotting vegetables.

In both cities, the police force appeared helpless in the face of mass vandalism. San Rafael police cited two youths under a state vehicle code section which forbids throwing anything from a moving car. Novato officers arrested nobody.

There is scant point in bewailing what happened last Thursday night unless something is done to prevent its repetition. It seems doubtful that appeal to the better natures of the young hoods and their parents will accomplish much. That has been tried.

A little old-fashioned justice might accomplish quite a lot.

San Rafael downtown streets were littered with broken eggs on the morning after Halloween. But there are state laws both against throwing anything from a moving vehicle and against littering public streets. Both are misdemeanors punishable by up to $500 fine and/or six months in jail. Both would have been applicable in the opinion of City Atty. David Menary Jr.

The Novato affair was even worse. A gang estimated by police as numbering some 500 defied the officers and pelted them with eggs. Not one arrest was made.

Novato City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. believes members of the mob could have been charged with rioting, resisting police, or perhaps any of several other charges.

Police exist for the protection of the public. That protection seemed lacking in San Rafael and Novato on Halloween.

The Novato affair was serious enough so that some imprisonment appears proper punishment for ringleaders, if they could be identified.

In both cities, salutary results might follow if police had made numerous arrests on charges of littering streets and throwing things from moving cars.

Judges probably would have gone along with punishment including having the offenders clean the streets, sidewalks and store fronts spattered with eggs and vegetables. This type of punishment is nothing new — and it has proved effective for just such offenses.

Can School Construction Costs Be Cut By Standardization?

SACRAMENTO—How some legislators want to spend instead of save funds which are put up by the state's taxpayers is reflected in letters sent by Assemblyman Leroy F. Greene, (D-Sacramento). The Greene letter declares there are serious drawbacks "to any proposal for cutting school costs by using stock construction plans."

The controversy over using standard plans for school buildings, thereby effecting less expenditure in architects' fees, is one that has raged for a long time.

It never has been resolved fully, although the trend to acquire some means of cutting down on building costs has been growing over the years, with the demand for more schools and more funds with which to build them.

THE ARCHITECTS argue, and with some justification, that it is unwise to adopt a standard plan for schools and use it throughout the state. Justification is because of the fact schools are constructed on different terrains, in communities with different climates, etc.

They also hold that the services of an architect are necessary to effect the necessary follow-through on construction of the school building, and to see that the structure is turned over to the school district in accordance with the plans adopted.

On the other hand, there are instances in which standard plans could be used with effectiveness, and with considerable savings to the already over - burdened individuals who pay the school bills.

Thus Assemblyman Green's contention that there are serious draw-backs to "any" proposal for cutting costs is subject to criticism.

THERE IS, in fact, a much larger question involved. This is the uncontroverted fact that around 1970 the state, as a former director of finance put it, is "going to have more kids than money."

In other words, education has the first lien on the state's general funds, and the time is approaching where the schools will take all of the money obtained for the general fund, as revenue is set up at the present time.

It is, however, impossible to believe that modern technology will permit the time to come when there won't be enough class-rooms for students in this state.

The problem is being worked on at the present time by private industry. And it is fully expected that private industry will come up with a solution which will cost the taxpayers of the state just about one-quarter of the amount they are now spending for class-rooms.

OBVIOUSLY, the solution would call for some reasonably standard structures, produced on a mass basis, and made available to school districts instead of the millions of dollars the districts now borrow for construction of standard schools.

How legislators can justify a claim that standardization has serious drawbacks therefore remains a big question. The question, of course, cannot be answered until industry makes its program public, and has the goods in the form of standard class-rooms to offer the state and the school districts.

Obviously, every school district wants specially designed structures. It is a matter of pride to have fine schools, but actually, this may turn out to be false pride when the time comes that there are "more kids than money" and the districts may have to take what they can pay for.

OUR INTERNATIONAL SEMANTICIST

Twenty years ago S. I. Hayakawa (of Mill Valley) reminded our ambiguous world that just because of words, a worker is happy under "job insurance" and surly under "relief," that Grandma is cheerful in "Sunshine Acres" but miserable in the "County Poor Farm." This week we have seen evidence that the leaders of the Roman Catholic Church have caught up with the teaching of semantics that words are real things to most people's minds.

The evidence emerged between the lines of the daily English-language summary by the Eucemencial Council press office, which said the Council fathers had voted to change the name of the sacrament of Extreme Unction to Anointing of the Sick because of the funereal implications of the ancient name. Since unction and onoint derive from the same Latin word, we asked a Council friend what change would be made in the Latin phrase, "unctio extrema," the designation of the sacrament since ancient times.

The intriguing answer: No change. "Annointing of the Sick" is only the recommended English rendition of the same ominous Latin words, and similar softened translations would be substituted in the scores of vernaculars where the Catholic Church operates.

A euphemism? Perhaps, but another way of saying it, Hayakawa would remind, would be that the Church is using new words to get the new ideas across.—Daily American, Rome, Italy.

America's Place In Viet Nam Crisis

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I wrote a letter to Madame Nhu recently, saying that the American people would not condone the overthrow of governments by violence.

As you probably already know, in the case of Dr. Richard Sorge, Japan was well aware that Germans were behind attempts to overthrow the Japanese Government by violence. The German Government hated Dr. Sorge as much as the Japanese. He was a Communist. Poles and Russians were used to sabotage the German Government before Adolf Hitler had any real power.

The charge now has been made that Americans are behind the overthrow of this South Viet Namese Government. History tells us that in the past, Germany and Japan worked together to find these people; China and Japan proclaimed in the midst of war, mutual aid to one another in the fight against communism.

As mature individuals, can America do any less than make a similar proclamation of sincere desire to stop a gruelling assault upon established, constitutionally elected governments? That is upon our government as much as Diem's.

We are in a true dilemma which would appear to have no answer. To say nothing merely encourages our foes; saying something may create an even more volatile situation. Without wishing to be an alarmist, I would summarize this last week in American history as comparable to nothing since the Munich Crisis. If nothing is done, and it becomes apparent we aren't going to do anything, I think America may be in for a reign of terror such as the world has never seen.

Here's A Brickbat And Bouquets

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I am a resident of Nicasio.

I have had frequent and unpleasant run-ins with the telephone company business office. Although I regularly pay a fairly hefty phone bill, I get rude and threatening calls and mail if I'm a couple of days behind.

Two weeks ago I had serious back surgery here in Marin General Hospital. My wife was told it might be cancer but I had 80 per cent chance of coming through. She stayed on her feet here while I was in operating from 2 to 10:30 p.m., and then was allowed to hold my hand for a few hours. She went home to sleep and do the house before coming back (as she has daily) and the phone company (including the supervisors) phoned and told her the phone was going to be cut off, this regardless of the fact that she was in dire urgent need of it, that her husband handled all bills in the family, in fact they did their cold brutal level best to put my girl into hysteria.

The blessed service man who was sent out to do the job phoned her first, and refused to cut it off. Whenever I can find him, he is going to get my heartfelt thanks and maybe he'll read this.

Naturally, I am halfway recovered now and paid my last month's phone bill.

Now here's the crux. My roommate here is also a business man with past experience of peremptory treatment from the phone company. Here's what he did, still does, and what I am going to do, and what I hereby ask all disgruntled Marin residents to do with this insolent and heartless and non-Marin-type monopoly.

Overpay your phone bill by a few cents of an odd number, different each time, by 15 cents, 27 cents or so.

This should uncog or gum-up their machines and maybe get some of the old time decency back on the line.

P.S. While I'm on record, may I render my deep gratitude for exquisite care and love given to myself and my wife who was so in need of understanding and comfort—these doctors who do not hesitate to show human understanding (such as sending out a surgical nurse in the middle of an operation to tell my wife it was not cancer), besides their sensitive surgical skill, and who reach and establish a base of personal and emotional understanding with their patient under the most trying conditions.

Nurses who should have some different kind of title like angel or something — their endless patience, kindness, sun-like optimism, humor, gentleness of touch and utter sweetness when you're way down under, and strength and encouragement when on your way up. Also you just ask anyone who's been through their Intensive Care Unit here (which is just after you come away from serious surgery, where I spent two days) and I'll defy you to keep a tear out of your eye if they can describe it. God's blessed these people.

THE WOMAN'S TOUCH

Candidate's Wife Can Be A Great Asset In Campaign

By HELEN THOMAS
United Press International

WASHINGTON — First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy may be put on the spot to campaign for her husband's re-election next year.

Mrs. Kennedy has never made a pretense of liking politics, but a tough presidential campaign might cause her to join the president on some of his travels.

In her nearly three years in the White House, the 34-year-old wife of the president has attended only one major political fund-raising dinner. She has been absent at all of the out-of-town presidential birthday celebrations held to fatten the party coffers.

ASKED IN an interview several months ago, if she would campaign, she said she would do what her husband wanted her to do.

She was pregnant during the 1960 campaign but pitched in by giving press teas, by writing a weekly column and by making political broadcasts in foreign languages.

Earlier in the year, she had helped Kennedy out in some of the primary campaigns, notably in Wisconsin and West Virginia.

AS FIRST LADY she has shied away from anything that smacks of political duty. But politics has become such a family affair, this may not last indefinitely.

In the '60 campaign, Mrs. Richard M. Nixon, was constantly at her husband's side, and some GOP partisans mounted separate "Pat For First Lady" rallies.

Introducing the wife was a winning touch for former Presidents Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower.

"And now I'd like you to meet my Mamie," Eisenhower would say to crowds at train stations. On Truman's whistle-stopping back in 1948, both his wife Bess and his daughter Margaret were at his side.

IT'S NO SECRET that the big wheels among Democratic women are hoping Mrs. Kennedy will hit the trail with the president.

"We'll see," said the wife of one of the Democratic house leaders. She indicated an approach would be made later to the first lady by party bigwigs.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, wife of the vice president, has resumed politicking in a big way. She recently toured points in New England to spur the Democratic ladies on at teas and luncheons.

San Diego Has Early Missions

If it's early California missions you like to visit, you'll find the first, the largest, and the greatest number in San Diego County.

These missions include, according to the National Automobile Club, the Mission San Diego de Alcala, founded in 1796, Mission San Luis Rey, known as "the King of the Missions," Mission San Antonio de Pala, which still serves the Indians, and Mission Santa Ysabel.

All are open to the public and admission is free.

John Holliday, reports Judge Jacob Braude, was the vigorous and hard - driving editor of the Indianapolis News when he spotted the word "height" misspelled "hight" in a front page story. He stormed into the composing room to learn the identity of the varmint who had committed this grievous blunder —and was shown the original copy. The mistake had been made by Mr. Holliday himself! "If that's the way I spelled it," he announced promptly, "it's correct." And for the next thirty years the word was spelled "hight" in the Indianapolis News.

Mrs. Goober and Mr. Goober were breakfasting together on the terrace outside their room at a West Indies resort. Mrs. Goober was talking and Mr. Goober was reading a four-days-old New York newspaper. As she poured the coffee, Mrs. Goober remarked acidly, "You needn't bother saying 'uh-huh' any more; I stopped talking five minutes ago."

A famous jockey had turned in the manuscript of his autobiography, and the publisher was now deliberating over how many copies he should print. Suggested an assistant, "Why don't we take a Gallop Poll?"

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Bobby Baker Case Leading To An Explosive Sequel

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Sen. John Williams, (R-Del.), the "one-man investigating committee" whose caustic charges led to the sensational "Bobby" Baker probe, is zeroing in on another potentially equally explosive case.

It involves a high foreign aid official with an assortment of bank accounts, one of them in Canada, and the strange reluctance of Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy and Foreign Aid Administrator David Bell to do anything about this official despite a critical FBI report.

This extraordinary affair is being thoroughly explored by Senator Williams in preparation for following his course in the mushrooming Baker expose — making the facts public in a blistering Senate speech.

HE WILL have a lot to reveal. Every aspect of the case is exceptional, as follows:

The FBI investigation of this foreign aid official was made at the request of Administrator Bell. Certain information had to come to him regarding this assistant's financial relations with a company that had been given millions of dollars in contracts in an area over which the official has considerable authority.

Bell particularly asked the FBI for a thorough scrutiny of reputed trust and pension arrangements the official made with the firm before joining the foreign aid agency.

THE FBI completed its inquiry in May, and submitted a comprehensive report to Attorney General Kennedy.

It has been gathering dust on his desk ever since.

In striking contrast to the zeal of the president's brother in vigorously pressing the "Bobby" Baker expose, he has been strangely apathetic about acting on the FBI report on the foreign aid official.

Six months have passed, and he is still dragging his feet on it.

MOST REMARKABLE aspect of this remarkable affair revolves around the official's mysterious bank account in Canada.

The FBI ascertained he has three bank accounts; two in the U. S. and the other in Canada. This is a sizable holding—more than $160,000. The FBI learned that through indirect sources.

When the G-men asked the official for access to his Canadian bank account, he admitted its existence but balked at allowing it to be examined — except on one curious condition.

He said he would grant permission if "ordered" to do so by Secretary of State Rusk.

ATTORNEY GENERAL Kennedy and Administrator Bell were informed of this. Neither has yet said one word to Rusk about the matter. Whether he has heard about it in some other way is not known.

In any event, nothing has been done about the mysterious Canadian bank account.

There is no clue so far as to the reason for this strange inaction.

Senator Williams has been told it is due to the foreign aid official's "powerful influence and connections in the U. S. and abroad." What and who they are is conjectural.

The official is still holding his high-ranking job, and outwardly is apparently unconcerned about the FBI investigation and its possible reverberations.

All are looking into the case, and Senator Williams may get a lot of help in blowing it wide open.

Smog Solution Is So Simple! All Hands Quit Breathing

THERE IS more construction going on in Novato than any other place in Marin County.

Large and small subdivisions of all kinds are going in all over town. In addition, there are three huge interchange projects on Highway 101 within the city limits.

At the council meeting last Tuesday night, a group of distraught parents asked the council to build a path beside narrow Center Road at West Novato School so that the children can keep off the street avoiding trucks for three construction projects.

ONE DAY last week, at the corner of Grant Avenue and Seventh Street during the school noon hour a boy about 12 years of age was crossing toward the Marion School.

A fully loaded truck was coming down the street about 35 miles an hour. The driver blasted his air horn and the boy jumped to safety.

Luckily the boy was old enough to get out of the way in time. However, it could have been any of hundreds of smaller children.

I DON'T THINK that truck could have stopped in time. He was going entirely too fast for a school zone, especially during the noon hour.

This is not a matter of police enforcement. No police force in any city could cover so many school zones, school crossings and play areas where trucks are hauling heavy loads as exist right now in Novato.

It's up to the truck drivers themselves. Kids do dart out.

So keep hauling, but be careful.

SMOG IS a plague of larger cities. Although the word itself originated in Los Angeles, hating to admit to anything like fog or smoke, it is much older than that city.

Long before World War I, trains entering Paris had to install "smoke eaters" or change to electricity when approaching the city. London long has been famous for "killer fogs."

But it remained for Los Angeles to coin the term that stuck. First and worst hit in the United States, Los Angeles took the first drastic steps to eliminate smog, even though the cause was not known for sure.

FIRST HIT were the outdoor incinerators and barbecues with little luck.

The city then turned on the hands that fed it — the industries. These were forced to eliminate their gaseous wastes. That did not work either.

Now the state has jumped into the act. All cars must install devices to eliminate noxious fumes. Even in the pure air of Marin these will be required.

However, authorities say that cars cause only 40 per cent of the smog.

BEST NEWS about solving the smog problem comes from Pasadena. Dr. Alexander Goetz of the California Institute of Technology said that tiny droplets in exhaled human breath cause air pollution so intense that not even charcoal filters can eliminate it.

That answers many questions and shows why cities with few cars have smog.

And the solution becomes simple. All the government has to do is to get people to stop breathing.

Working Girls Getting Older And Young Folks Taller

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

More middle class wives are now holding jobs outside the home. In more than half the families with income from $7,000 to $15,000 yearly, the wife works at least part of the year.

The average working girl is getting older, too. Half of the 25 million women in the U.S. labor market are over 40.

Here's why so many parents look up to their children these days: Young people are about two inches taller than those of 60 years ago.

Teen-age mommy: Almost 40 per cent of U.S. brides now marry in their teens. Over half of them become mothers before their 20th birthday.

Betcha never knew this: Men's fingers are approximately 10 per cent longer and 20 per cent wider than ladies' fingers.

OUR QUOTABLE notables: "I have no use for a man who lies in bed after nine o'clock in the morning."—Henry R. Luce.

Know your language: The word "sincere" is said to come from two Latin words, "sina" and "cere," meaning "without wax."

Remember when it was being predicted that man soon would be able to live 150 to 200 years? Many scientists today doubt this is a possibility in the foreseeable future, but think that better medicine and hygiene will enable more of us to live to be 80.

Small fry: Comedienne Marion Powers tells about the little girl who prayed, "Please, God, make three times two equal seven — 'cause that's what I wrote on my exam paper in school."

WHITE PLAGUE: Many people erroneously believe miracle drugs have solved the problem of tuberculosis, a scourge through the centuries. Actually, it is still one of the most widespread human ills, afflicting some 50 million people throughout the world, and killing 10,000 yearly in the United States alone.

Patience test: Researchers have found that most people don't mind waiting 30 seconds for an elevator, but as the interval approaches a minute they begin to fuss and fume.

It was Arthur Brisbane who observed, "It's a good thing to know how to satisfy your own conscience and make the cash register ring also."

ABOUT 40 per cent of American homes now have at least one dog. So Rover seems to be holding his own despite the increase in apartment buildings which ban canine pets.

A government study found that there are two million U. S. widows over 62.

Less than half of all women over 25 in this country are high school graduates. And that more than 50 per cent between the ages of 45 and 54 have paid jobs.

MANY FISH, but especially goldfish, turn gray with age—just like people.

Can you name the commodity that we spend the most money to import? It's coffee.

Don't worry too much about insomnia cutting down your efficiency. A British scientist says that some people work even better after a "sleepless" night than if they had spent eight hours snoring.

NOTHING upsets a wife more surely than seeing a roach in her kitchen.

But, on the other hand, most roaches — if they had their choice — wouldn't be caught dead in a kitchen. A majority of the 3,500 varieties of this insect prefer to dwell outdoors.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Defensive Error Assures Contract In Bridge Game

Probably every bridge player has heard the expression "Third hand high."

This means that the person who plays the third card of a trick should try to win the trick — or, at any rate, play higher than either of the previous players in the hope of winning the trick.

In short, East should read exactly what South is doing.

If East saves his queen of hearts he will later win a trick with it.

The defenders get three hearts and their two kings, defeating the contract.

Opening lead — ♡ 4

West opens the four of hearts, and South cunningly plays the jack from dummy. East covers with the queen of hearts, following the "third hand high" rule.

SOUTH WINS

South wins with the king of hearts and now has a second stopper in the suit.

If hearts are continued later in the hand, South will win a second heart trick with his own ten or with dummy's nine.

South can afford to try the diamond finesse. East wins with the king of diamonds and continues the attack on hearts. South gets his second heart trick and makes sure of his nine tricks by taking three spades, two hearts, three diamonds and one club.

BREAK RULE

East should defeat the contract by breaking the rule at the first trick. East should play the eight of hearts instead of the queen on dummy's jack.

The opening lead is clearly fourth-best from a four-card suit. (East can see the three and deuce of hearts and therefore knows that West has no hearts lower than his opening lead.)

West would not lead a low heart if his suit were A-K-x-x.

SHOULD READ

South is marked with A-x or K-x of hearts and would play the nine from dummy unless he held the 10 in his own hand.

In 1955, Austria formally opened the reconstructed Vienna State Opera House and celebrated her liberation from 17 years of foreign occupation.

'We Can Beat USC,' Says Stanford Coach

Stanford's Indians gun for another of their big upsets when they meet Southern California Saturday and Coach John Ralston decleares, "This is a ball game which we think we can win . . . one we're really going after.

"We can win it."

Ralston made his statement at a Northern California Football Writers meeting yesterday even before it became known that the Trojans must operate in the game at Los Angeles without No. 1 quarterback Pete Beathard who was injured as USC lost to Washington 22-8 last Saturday.

Stanford suffered no injuries in an equally disappointing 10-7 loss to Oregon State just a week after the Indians whipped Notre Dame 24-14 in a major upset.

Ralston declared movies clearly indicated that in the final period against OSU, Stanford halfback Dick Ragsdale was in bounds when he caught a 42-yard pass from Steve Thurlow at the Oregon State 33.

Officials ruled he was out of bounds and Ralston said he didn't feel the official who made the call was in a position to see it clearly.

California Coach Marv Levy told the writers two big plays were instrumental in his club's 25-0 victory over UCLA.

"The first was the pass interception by Jim Phillips at our goal near the end of the first half. The other was Tom Blanchfield's fourth period field goal that put us out of reach," Levy said.

Blanchfield was voted the area's back-of-the-week by the writers and sportscasters. San Jose guard Larry Hansen was the top lineman after the Spartans upset an injury-plagued Oregon club 13-8.

Levy also complimented defensive back Jerry Walter and then looked forward to Saturday's game at Berkeley against Washington.

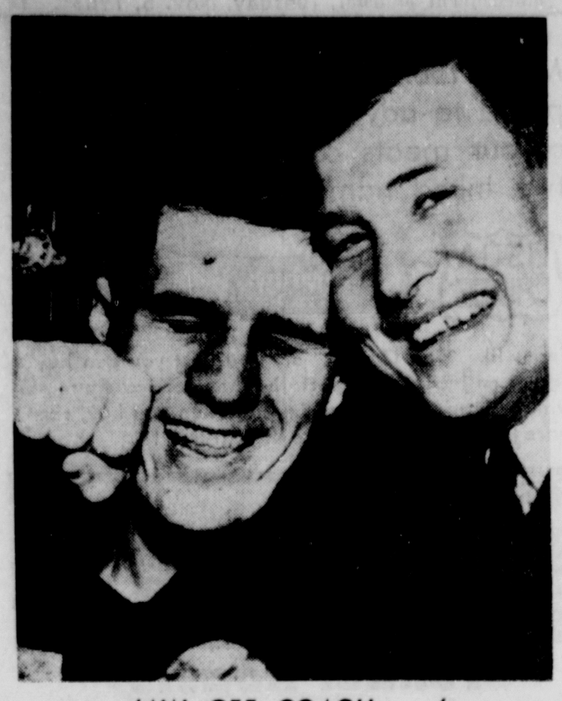

"We saw Washington and USC on television and were tremendously impressed by the Huskies," he declared. "They have a good quarterback, Junior Coffey is running in full gear again and they have a breakaway threat in Steve Bramwell."

Levy concluded, "We will have our hands full Saturday but we're looking forward to it."

San Jose Coach Bob Titchenal called his team's victory a great defensive effort and said it would take another to stop Arizona State University's two fine runners, Chuck Taylor and Tony Lorick, Saturday night at San Jose.

Titchenal also praised halfback Cass Jackson, who played 58 of the game's 60 minutes at Oregon, and sophomore Ken Berry.

"The two were largely responsible for a drive that gave us ball control the final seven minutes," the coach said. He admitted the Oregon offense was far below par with quarterback Bob Berry, Ken's brother, and halfback Mel Renfro both injured.

'AW, GEE, COACH . . .'

Washington star Dave Kopay, named Big Six "Back of the Week" yesterday, closes his eyes and grins blushingly as he gets a hug from Coach Jim Owens after their 22-7 upset over USC Saturday. Kopay, considered too slow for Washington's backfield last year, led the Huskies to their bigges triumph of the season and a giant step toward the Rose Bowl. (AP Wirephoto)

49ers' Kermit Alexander May Have Nightmares Over Lions' Terry Barr

RANDOL

As long as he lives, Kermit Alexander will never forget the Detroit Lions' 45 to 7 trouncing of the San Francisco 49ers. And if the Niners' rookie defense man is subject to nightmares, the only face he will see is that of Terry Barr, the great Lion flanker.

It was gosh-awful! Never in my life have I seen a back burned so often in one game. Barr was catching passes in front, behind, over and under Alexander. Kermit was so bugged by Barr's evasive moves that he completely forgot to watch the ball. And that is the unforgivable sin on defense.

And the statistics don't tell half the story. Several times quarterback Earl Morrall missed Barr when he was wide open. Several times he passed to other receivers. Barr even had young Kermit tied in knots when ground plays went in the other direction.

THE LIONS are famous for their defense but have missed championship caliber in recent years because of a sputtering offense. Forty-five points and 509 yards gained would seem to be offense aplenty, but again the statistics are misleading.

Consider this: In the first half, the Lions ran up 266 net yards and still failed to score a touchdown until the very end of the half. That's like buying a cigar with a $100 bill and telling the girl to keep the change.

Actually, what it comes down to is atrocious play calling. The Lions are still dreaming of getting in on the championship play this year, but I can't see it.

BESIDES, it's kinda fun to pick on a team that has WON by a such a score. Comic relief, they call it in show biz. And if ever comedy and a few smiles were needed, now is the time.

When Red Hickey quit as coach of the 49ers, Jack Christiansen was made head man for the remainder of the year. He was not promised the job for next year. Sudden thought: I wonder if he wants it?

No question, the 49er defense has done a great job of holding up at the line of scrimmage this year. Leaky pass defense and the fact that the offense seldom keeps the ball long enough to rest the defenders has made the difference.

THE GREAT old Lion (S.F. type) Leo Nomellini brought cheers to the crowd with a couple of his old time moves, but I'm afraid the majority of the loyal failed to see the way Leo was moved around by younger men who cut great holes through his area.

When the old timers can no longer cut it, and the youngsters like Alexander let their inexperience show through, it sends strong men to the crying room.

THE ONE ray of hope is that things have to get better. They can't get any worse. I think.

Next week Dallas at Kezar, and then the scene mercifully shifts to New York and Green Bay's Milwaukee base. Tough sailing ahead.

Over in Oakland the Raiders, the amazing Raiders, won another that went down to the last two seconds. Nothing succeeds like success. Remember?

Golf Tourney Reset

The San Anselmo Businessmen's Golf Tournament, postponed yesterday, has been rescheduled for next Monday, it was announced by chairman John Bell. Bell reported the course at the Meadow Club was "unplayable" because of heavy rains Sunday and yesterday.

49ers Work On Biggest Boo-Boos

When your team has just lost a game 45-7, you don't look for the little mistakes. Just the big ones.

So, Coach Jack Christiansen cinched up his belt a bit yesterday and announced that the 49ers of San Francisco will concentrate on the pass rush and secondary coverage this week. They face the Dallas Cowboys Sunday at Kezar Stadium.

"These were our biggest breakdowns against Detroit," Christiansen said after watching the films of last weekend's game. The loss left the 49ers 1-7 for the season.

Christiansen doesn't however, point his finger of guilt entirely at his secondary:

"Detroit went into the game figuring to exploit a certain spot. They ran a pattern and then, guessing that the defense wouldn't expect a repeat, they came right back with it.

"There wasn't enough pressure on the passer. You've got to worry him, knock him down once in a while, and cause him to throw before he's ready. We'll work on that."

AERIAL ASSAULT

Earl Morral of the Lions connected for 24 of his 33 passes in the one-sided win for 330 aerial yards.

On the positive side, halfback Kermit Alexander, who sprained an ankle against Detroit, thinks he'll be ready for the Cowboys on Sunday.

The cast probably will come off John Brodie's tossing arm today, team officials said, and the quarterback hopes to play more this year.

Another casualty, halfback Bill Kilmer—who got his injury on the freeway and not on the football field—has been limbering up a healed leg for a month, but still isn't ready.

Raiders Seek Offensive Fireworks

OAKLAND (UPI) — Coach Al Davis of the Oakland Raiders today tried to get his troops up for Friday's rematch with the Kansas City Chiefs.

He praised the defensive team's efforts against the Chiefs in last Sunday's 10-7 victory, but said that the Raiders will have to provide more offensive fireworks in order to get a victory at Kansas City.

"We moved the ball all right, but we made far too many errors deep in their territory," said Davis, "but the defense of ours — it's great."

Davis had especially kind words for middle linebacker Arch Matsos and defensive Matsos and defensive tackle Dave Costa for their efforts last Sunday.

The Raiders escaped from the Chiefs' victory without a serious injury. Defensive backs Warren Powers and Jim McMillan and flanker Dobie Craig all sustained injuries, but all were expected to be ready to go Friday night.

Back In 1907 Pole Vault Champions Whittled Poles

TERRY, Mont. (AP) — Ralph Norris has a vivid memory of a spring day 57 years ago when he held the world pole vault record—for eight minutes.

Norris, 80, was on the University of Illinois track team and was vaulting with an 11-pound pole he whittled himself.

"I still have the pole, but I don't use it anymore," he said. "Poles in those days were tough but heavy. I whittled mine out of second-growth ash."

The pole vault mark he set, and held so briefly, was 11 feet, 4⅛ inches. It was exceeded in the same track meet by an Illini teammate, Sidney Greer, with a vault of 11 feet, seven inches.

"I just barely missed at that height," Norris recalled. "When Greer cleared the bar, it bounced way up and way down—but it stayed on." Norris said the record was broken again a year later in 1907 by Leroy Samse of Indiana with a vault of 12 feet, 4⅞ inches.

Asked about today's fiber glass poles, Norris said. "I don't think it's a pole vault any more. It's a spring vault. The pictures of today's vaulters show it's an entirely different event."

Norris said his best effort at pole vaulting was 12 feet, 9¾ inches. At the time, in 1907, it would have been a world mark. However, it was set in a Chicago Park meet which was not recognized by the Amateur Athletic Union.

"I wasn't upset," he said. "I expected to do better than this."

Norris, born in Boston, is now retired. Always interested in agriculture, he dropped into Terry in 1909 to visit a friend and remained to homestead.

Liston-Clay Bout May Draw $10 Million

CHAMPS . . . PAST, PRESENT — Former heavyweight champion Joe Louis (left) and present champ Sonny Liston walked into Denver hotel early today prior to Liston's signing for a world title bout with Cassius Clay. Sonny, Cassius Contract Signing Today In Denver

DENVER (UPI)—Champion Sonny Liston and challenger Cassius Clay were set to sign today for what was expected to be the richest heavyweight boxing match in history sometime early next year.

Liston, who lives in Denver, and Clay, who drove in from Chicago in a bus festooned with "I'm the greatest" banners, were to sign at the Denver Hilton Hotel this afternoon.

There were little advance specifics. But the fight was expected to be in February at any one of several possible sites.

Former champion Joe Louis was among the onlookers. Louis flew to Denver last night and spent the night at the Hilton. Milt Willner, Liston's Denver "press representative," said Louis was not there in any official capacity, but simply as an observer.

Agreement on the long-rumored bout did not still the talk from some quarters that the two fighters' boxing abilities were in inverse proportions to their talents as public speakers.

At San Francisco, Sol Solverman, chairman of a California State committee on boxing safeguards, renewed his charges that the fight would be a "mismatch."

Silverman earlier said he thought Clay was a fine young boxer, but not yet in Liston's class.

Ben Bentley, Liston's Chicago public relations man, in charge of today's events, disagreed.

"When he (Silverman) goes around the country making these surveys to see how boxing can be made safer, that's fine," Bentley said. "But now he's starting to make matches, and I say there are people with a lot more experience and ability in doing that."

Bentley said the fight would be "far from an overmatch." He conceded most people thought Liston would win, "but I think they will be surprised at the kind of fight that will take place."

Silverman and Bentley agreed on one point, however—the fight will make a staggering amount of money.

Silverman estimated it at "about $10 million dollars." Bentley declined to name a figure.

"But it absolutely and beyond a doubt will shatter all records for all heavyweight bouts," he said. "This is the fight that everyone wants to see. The public has demanded this bout."

COCKY CASSIUS SILENCED BY POLICE DOGS

DENVER (AP) — Police dogs routed Cassius Clay from in front of Sonny Liston's home early today as the heavyweight challenger shouted at the champion and honked the horn of his bus.

Seven police cars surrounded Clay's bus, which was decorated with such slogans as "Sonny Liston will go in eight."

In the doorway of his home, Liston watched without any show of emotion.

A big police dog was within inches of Clay as the No. 1 contender was told to "move on right away or be taken in." Clay left promptly.

Las Vegas Offers $500,000 For Bout

LAS VEGAS (UPI)—The Dunes Hotel, offering a $500,000 guaranteed gate, yesterday made a bid to have the Sonny Liston-Cassius Clay fight in this gambling city.

Dunes executive vice president Charles J. Rich in a wire to Liston's manager said "the Dunes Hotel will guarantee a half-million dollars gate for the fight in February, 1964."

"If this is acceptable, we will deposit a substantial amount in any bank of your choice," the wire said.

Big Break For Roger Craig: From Lowly Mets To Cards

NEW YORK (AP) — "I have good news for you. You've been traded."

Those were the first words Roger Craig heard after Johnny Murphy, the long distance caller from New York, had been assured by the telephone operator he had reached his party.

"I know you will like the Club you're going to," said Murphy, who serves as assistant to George Weiss, the New York Mets' president and general manager.

"The first clubs that came to my mind were the Dodgers, Cardinals, Giants and Yankees," Craig recalled as he told how he first learned of yesterday's trade which sent him to St. Louis Cardinals in exchange for outfielder George Altman and Bill Wakefield, a minor league pitcher.

"I knew I'd be traded," the veteran pitcher said when contacted by telephone at his home in Lakewood, Calif. "I was praying it wouldn't be to another second division club. I felt I suffered enough."

FRUSTRATION

The two seasons he spent with the Mets must have been the most frustrating of Roger's life. He pitched well enough in each of those years to have been a 20-game winner with a contending club. But with the cellar-mired Mets, he was a 20-game loser both years. His combined 15-46 record was misleading. Nine of his 24 defeats last season were by shutouts, four by scores of 1-0.

"This deal should help me mentally as well as physically," said Craig, who will be 33 in March. "The Cards have been the toughest team in the league for me to beat."

Altman, a 30-year-old southpaw pitcher, batted only .274 with nine home runs at St. Louis last season. The Cards had expected a great deal more from him after acquiring him from the Chicago Cubs last winter.

Craig was in 46 games last season, starting 36 and completing 14.

"I feel I've never pitched better than last year despite my record," said Craig. "I had better control, better stuff and my arm didn't bother me despite all the work.

"I have no bad feeling toward the Mets. They treated me fine and the fans were wonderful. Those two years with the Mets could be a blessing. I learned to cope with adversity. I think my stay in New York made me a better pitcher because it taught me to bear down harder. There was plenty of opportunity."

Tip For Pheasant Hunters: Willows Loaded With Birds

Marin County sportsmen who journey up into the Willows area this season for pheasant shooting are going to enjoy exceptionally good hunting, according to Father John McGoldrick, the "Pheasant Priest."

"I've never seen so many hooster pheasants in the Willows area," Father McGoldrick said upon making a recent tour of the fields in his area.

"I know my many friends down Marin County way are going to get birds this season," he said.

Father McGoldrick is pastor of St. Monica's Catholic Church in Willows. He was named the "Pheasant Priest" after organizing the Willows Pheasant Assn. several years ago. This organization has helped to better relations between rancher and hunter.

The association has 40,000 acres of good hunting land lined up for the season, which runs from Nov. 23 - Dec. 8.

"We'll plant 1,000 roosters just before the season opens," the priest said.

Releasing 1,000 birds has been a project of the association each fall.

"But if we had known the local crop was so good we never would have bought 1,000 roosters this year," the priest added.

Marin residents desiring a membership should write to the Willows Pheasant Assn., Willows, Calif.

Staubach Greatest

NEW YORK (AP) — After Navy beat Notre Dame in football Saturday at South Bend 35-14, Navy Coach Wayne Hardin called his quarterback Roger Staubach "the greatest player who has ever played the game."

"If he doesn't win the Heisman Trophy this year," the game is crooked," Hardin said.

In a story yesterday, The Associated Press erroneously attributed the quote to Hugh Devore, the Notre Dame coach.

DRAKE VICTORY OVER NOVATO CLINCHES TIE FOR MARIN ATHLETIC LEAGUE GRID CHAMPIONSHIP

Novato High School ball carrier Rick Thomas (upper left photo) was tripped up and ended on his shoulder after an 11-yard gain in first quarter of Saturday's game against the Drake Pirates at Novato. Coming up, too late, to help Thomas is teammate Blaine Kimbell (21) while Drake's Davé Cericola is watching action from a prone position. In upper right photo Drake's Joe DeMasi (28) is pictured plunging over goal line for one of the two touchdowns he scored in Drake's 13-6 victory. Hitting him are Novato's Wayne Russell (left) and Al Blos (right). Others in photo are Drake's Mike Kemp (2) and Rich Street (65) and Novato's Tom Miller (22). Drake's fifth straight Marin Athletic League victory gave the Pirates at least a tie for the championship.

Notes, Quotes From Nation's Gridirons

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — Today's football wash, and save some water to rinse off the shaving lather:

Bob Brown, 269-pound Nebraska tackle, shaved off a 1½-inch growth of beard Saturday after the Cornhuskers beat Missouri 13-12 . . . He had vowed to let the facial foliage grow until Nebraska beat its old rival, which means he came within a point of becoming a candidate for the House of David . . . Good thing the boys up at Rensselear don't get similar ideas . . . The Troy, N.Y., school has lost 31 straight, longest losing streak in college football . . . Frustration prize for the week goes to quarterback Jerry Bishop of Austin, Tex., College . . . He completed 29 passes for 500 yards, yet Austin lost to East Central Oklahoma 54-37.

A HIGH SCHOOL halfback in Windsor, Vt., picked up a fumble and raced 70 yards to the goal line . . . Result: Two points — for the other team. He ran the wrong way . . . And at Woodland, Wash., an official scorer kept jotting down the initials "CWHS" . . . "What in the tarnation does that mean?" queried a confused onlooker . . . "Clobbered where he stood," replied the scorekeeper, without blinking an eyelid . . . Woodland lost the game to Castle Rock 84-0. . . . Some people make records with their hands, some with their feet and some with both. . . . John Parry, Brown end caught his seventh and eighth touchdown passes in the 34-13 losing game against Princeton, setting an Ivy League record. . . . At Atlanta, Billy Lothridge of Georgia Tech hung up a national mark for field goals, his three in the 30-6 rout of Duke giving his a career total of 19 — two more than the previous high set by Ed Dyas of Auburn . . . And Navy's fabulous Roger Staubach racked up a Naval Academy individual yardage mark for a season by boosting his passing and running total to 1,420 yards.

NOTRE DAME'S Hugh Devore was slightly impressed by Staubach in the Midshipmen's 35-14 victory at South Bend. "Staubach is only the best football player who ever played the game," said Devore. "If he doesn't win the Heisman Trophy this year, the game is crooked."

DO YOU like college football's two-point conversion? Well, it all depends . . . Cornell's Tom Hap does . . . A two-point conversion by Bob Baker gave the Big Red an 18-17 decision over Columbia after a touchdown in the last 14 seconds . . . But Missouri gambled on two points in the last period and didn't make them, losing to Nebraska 13-12 and Richmond did the same thing in its 14-13 losing effort against VMI . . . "When they want me to coach for ties," said Richmond's Ed Merrick, defending his action, "I don't want to coach."

PRO BASKETBALL

Robertson, Chamberlain Share Scoring Honors

NEW YORK (AP) — Oscar Robertson or Wilt Chamberlain. Take your pick as to which one is the current scoring leader in the National Basketball Association.

Robertson, the Big O of the Cincinnati Royals, is listed as No. 1 in the weekly official NBA statistics released today on the basis of his 246 points in 10 games. However, it's the Big Dipper of the San Francisco Warriors who is on top if you prefer to list them according to per game averages. Chamberlain has scored 189 points in six games, but his average is 31.5 compared to 24.6 for Robertson.

This is how the top five looks, according to total points scored: 1. Robertson 246; 2. Bob Pettit, St. Louis, 222; 3 Jerry West, Los Angeles, 213; 4. Walt Bellamy, Baltimore, 205; Chamberlain, 189.

According to averages the top five would be: 1. Chamberlain, 31.5; 2. West, 30.6; 3. Pettit, 27.8; 4. Bellamy, 25.6; 5. Robertson, 24.6.

F&G Dept. Forecasts Excellent Quail Hunting In North State

STEVENS

Having offered in last week's column on upland game, to relay the predictions of the Dept. of Fish and Game as to the populations of birds from the reports sent me, I had expected perhaps a dozen calls, but there were many more. Ninety per cent asked about quail, so today I will quote from the F&G release on quail—briefly.

"THE PROSPECTS for quail are the brightest they have been for several years. Good valley quilt hunting will be found in most of the larger canyon bottoms.

Central Coast Ranges: Reproduction excellent . . . hunting should be at least equal to that of last year in all areas north of San Francisco Bay. South of the bay it should be better than last year—as much at 50 per cent above 1962. North of the San Francisco area public hunting includes the Mendocino National Forest, Cow Mountain Recreation Area between Ukiah and Lakeport, Jackson State Forest west of Willits, and Boggs Mountain State Forest south of Clear Lake. South of San Francisco public hunting areas include Los Padres National Forest in Monterey and San Luis Obispo counties and the New Iria Forest in eastern San Benito County. Best hunting will be near springs or streams in the foothill areas with low density stands of brush interspersed with grasslands where birds can be flushed and retrieved. The first rains will scatter the juail and make hunting more difficult.

SACRAMENTO VALLEY and Foothills-Northern Sierra Nevada: Best hunting will be (for valley quail) in brushy areas in the foothills surrounding the valley. Most good spots are on private lands, so permission to hunt is required.

San Joaquin valley and foothills-Southern Sierra Nevada: Areas open to the public should provide good hunting in such places as the Monache-Walker Pass, Panoche, and the Temblor National Co-op. Land and Wildlife Canagament areas. The Stanislaus, Sierra and Sequoia National Forests are open to the public, but much of the area is on private land, so permission to hunt is necessary. Most of the mountain quail are found on these lands. In eastern Kern County, the best mountain quail hunting follows snowstorms and cold weather that drive the birds down from the higher elevations."

OKAY, THE above is a synopsis of the story of mountain and valley quail as stated by the F&G. You will note that the areas listed are of a general nature, very few exact spots are pinpointed. Hence, a few words anent the more probable parts of these general areas to find our birds. If you must have mountain quail, let's hope you are in good physical condition, that you will wear rather heavy clothing with pants that cover your ankles well. Also a snake-bite kit should be carried. These birds, unlike the valley quail, don't seem to stick around in one place. They generally feed close to thick cover and favor mountain grains, sage, clover, berries and wild oats, so hunt up a place where these foods are abundant.

THE VALLEY QUAIL, like the mountain breed, prefer to run along the ground rather than take to the air. He doesn't restrict his eating places to any one area, but will roam over quite a wide range. However, he can be flushed, of course, and by the same token, if he is badly frightened he may "freeze," hugging the ground to the extent that they have been known to be picked up by hand. They usually fly very low and their arcing flight is similar to the mountain quail's. It is said that the favorite food of the valley quail is sage, so if you can find a sage patch you are in luck. They also feed on wild oats and ferns and weeds, lupine and bunch grass. Just about any place where you will find cattle and grazing lands is a good bet if there happens also to be good cover handy. On lands where sheep have grazed are best avoided; the ovine grazers trim the grass to closely.

SO, I guess it's up to you to hunt up your own private quail area. Should be an easy job—still easier if you have a good dog along. Find a likely area and get permission from the land owner.

INTRODUCING THE DEPENDABLES FOR '64

We have designs to get you in our power

Our engineers are a wily group of guys who spend most of their time dreaming up ways to win your approval. Take the Dodge Polara 500.

You'd be hard-pressed to find a car that's got more going for you. Deeply-padded, contour-formed bucket seats. All-vinyl upholstery. Sill-to-sill carpeting. Padded dash. Center console. And lots of other trimmings. But that's only the half of it.

Perhaps our approach to power will further illustrate the point. With the Polara 500 you aren't baked in on a certain engine. You can choose from a standard 318 cu. in. V8 up to a street-version of our walloping, all-out 426 cu. in. Ramcharger V8. Compromise? Nope. We just feel that a freedom of choice is the surest road to your approval.

That's our way of doing business—giving you lots of car and lots of satisfaction at a price that's hard to quarrel with.

Your Dodge Dealer will be glad to demonstrate the point.

—Dashing To Dots For Spring

NEW YORK (UPI) — The nation's garment makers are dashing to dots for spring.

The polka dots, from dime to pancake size, made a mark during openings of spring collections by trend-setting designers in New York the last several days.

THEY SHOWED in afternoon and evening dresses unveiled for buyers here from stores nation-wide.

But that's not all. The pace-setting designers have gone to the rainbow — and over it — blotting color as they searched for hues most likely to make spring, 1964, colorful.

They absorbed paint-box colors, rainbow colors, sunrise and sunset colors, man-made colors—most of them bright.

Dyes poured into the fibers in their fabric mills fed yards of goods cut, stitched and pressed into the most body-accenting silhouettes seen in many a spring.

The fit of many styles was so tight it reminded one of wallpaper off the roll.

This kind of fit will call for rolling and bending and dieting for the femme who's grown accustomed to boxy jackets and overblouses and also has grown around the middle.

For after dark the fit combines with bare patches to make a look the girl watchers of America are bound to hail.

BACKS, SHOULDERS were bared. The most daring of the peek-a-boo little blacks was seen in the Luis Estevez collection.

This Cuban-born designer said he couldn't be outdone by Dior in Paris. The design he hopes will compete with the almost-bare bosom by that house had a neckline that plunged to the waist—exposing a slim ribbon of flesh down the middle.

"I wouldn't recommend this number (as they call dresses in the garment district) for women who must wear bras," Estevez said when the dress was put on show for buyers.

Other trend-setting designers who leaned to the anatomy-accenting silhouettes—best on lean women — included Larry Aldrich, president of the New York Couture Group.

ALDRICH believes women will welcome the "body conscious" shapes. Even his suits had jackets buttoned in closely at the waist and fitted gently over hips.

What swirls in the fashion smorgasbord concocted by top designers: skirts. There were lean-bean types, but in the main most collections featured skirts on the round—cut on the bias, circular types, and flat-pressed pleated types.

Other trends on fashion's front will be uncovered as additional designers show their collections. The big questions — which way the waistline, how low the neckline—will be answered during the next two weeks.

THERE'S A TENDENCY to drop the waistline in some collections. Herbert Sondheim, for example, showed plenty of dresses and suits with dropped waists. Some even dropped the belt to hip level on string-straight suit jackets.

Sondheim featured capes. They were slim, shell-typed capes rather than billowy ones.

The colors from the rainbow were used often in contrasting ways rather than as monotones. In the Estevez collection, for example, a black, blue silk floral sheath was topped by a turquoise stole lined in pink.

Stoles, by the way, shaped up as a number one fashion for spring. The one in the Estevez collection, noted above, was a grand stole—with a six-inch ruffle all around. It stood out, starched like.

Highlights of other designer collections:

—DIANA ADLER, designer for George Carmel, pushed Chanel-type suits in addition to ones with hip-length jackets shaped to the body.

—JANE DERBY advanced ruffles and gigham plaids as part of the move to get women out of pants at home.

—DESIGNER CHRISTIAN MANN, who works for Marquise, made a mark with collarless V-necklines on dresses and suits.

Non-Theatrical Colors Are For Day-To-Day Living

By MARGERY McELHENY

CHICAGO (UPI) — Bold color arrangements are satisfying for public places or if a homemaker is in a financial position to redecorate frequently. But most decorators recommend a non-theatrical color scheme for day-to-day living.

Borrowing from the Japanese style of complex, but natural use of color, they strive for a blend of beautiful colors into eye-pleasing harmony.

THE KEYNOTE of this trend is that color schemes should be undemanding and yet interesting. Touches of dramatic color, however, are necessary and can be supplied by accessories, paintings, and plants.

The subdued, carefully decorated home does not imply dullness. The basis of the Japanese idea is to copy nature's way with colors, and they believe nature is never dull.

FOLLOWING THE NATURAL color trend, color is always shaded, never even, and it never matches. There are constant variations on the same basic shade. Surfaces are patterned and textured, never flat; patterns are not repeated, but are of endless variety. And most important, most natural colors are quiet and undemanding. In a total landscape, the vibrant, bright colors are a small part of the overall scene.

Wall and floor coverings of small contrasting patterns and textures can be complemented with furniture upholstery that is a variation of the basic shade. A room can be done in soft browns and greys that blend into delicate beiges and pastel oranges. Or in tones of blue with touches of ice yellow.

Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

A nice doctor I know told me recently: "Of course baby care is a serious business but sometimes mothers take it too seriously. As a consequence, they often develop a kind of grim tenseness which is easily transmitted to a baby and the baby may develop a corresponding tenseness. The mothers who laugh with their babies, and at themselves occasionally, are the most successful ones."

•

Points to remember: Grim determination to see that baby "licks the platter clean" may turn a naturally eager eater into a mealtime rebel. Food served with a smile usually gets a good reception.

•

There'll be baby-smiles to spare when the menu features a Gerber Strained or Junior High Meat Dinner. For these hearty dishes have 3 times as much succulent meat as regular combination dinners. Add to this extra meat, garden-good vegetables and subtle seasoning and you have "casserole dishes" with exceptional flavor character. P. S. Apart from the eating pleasure your baby will have, Gerber High Meat Dinners provide a good source of protein . . . the mighty "helping hand" of growth.

Super Supper Plan
(a la Gerber)*
Veal High Meat Dinner
Squash or Sweet Potatoes
Chocolate Custard Pudding
Formula or Milk

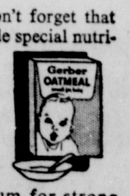

* All the above in both strained and junior versions.

•

Strengthening influences. Overall buttons will stay put longer if you sew them on with elastic thread. Sweater buttons will be more secure if you reinforce thread at center of buttons with clear nail polish.

•

Start to finish. Don't forget that baby cereals provide special nutritional benefits right through the toddler stage. Gerber Cereals contain a special kind of iron to help build good red blood—calcium for strong bones and teeth—important B-vitamins which aid appetite and growth. Women In New Homes Want 'Old-Fashioned Walk In Pantry'

NEW YORK (UPI)—The distaff member of the home-owning family, of necessity an adaptable creature, can make a home of almost any assortment and arrangement of rooms; but given her choice she has some pretty definite ideas about what she's like to work with.

Women in Portland, Ore., Los Angeles, Fort Worth, Washington, D.C. and Cincinnati recently aired their views at housing seminars held under the auspices of the National Association of Home Builders and a leading shelter magazine.

NEEDLESS to say the 30 women attending each of the seminars were not identical in their ideas of what makes a house a home; tastes in many cases reflected the geographical areas in which they lived. However, general impressions gained from the seminars brought out some interesting facts, many which might come as a surprise to those who design the homes women are supposed to like.

For instance, there was an almost unanimous wish expressed for the "old-fashioned walk-in pantry." And many of the women expressed a yearning for "an old-fashioned kitchen" in a new home. While not many put it in exactly those words, the sum total of their ideas seemed to be a desire for a space in which all sorts of family activities, including cooking, could be pursued easily and naturally. Nearly everyone agreed the laundry equipment should not be in the kitchen, but there was no unanimity as to where it should be placed.

A flexible kind of living-dining area that could fulfill several functions with minimum shifting about of things seemed the ideal dining arrangement.

Virtually every woman in every city wanted an entry hall or foyer that would provide "a gracious place" for greeting guests; fully screened from the rest of the house, and providing adequate storage space for coats, umbrellas and other personal things.

There was little demand for additional baths, but many of the women though a children's half-bath near a mud-room kind of entrance would be great.

A MASTER bedroom with a "living room look" was popular, especially for women with teen-age children. The idea was to have the bedroom as a "parents retreat" for reading, writing, watching television, quiet conversation or keeping the family accounts.

A bedroom for each child, with desk and ample storage space, was a part of nearly every woman's dream house.

In each of the seminars, discussion began with the neighborhood, the exterior of a house and then went through a hypothetical house room by room.

MOST of the women opposed extremes in the style or design of a house.

They said, too, while they did not want to live in precise look-alikes, neither did they want to live in a neighborhood of conflicting architectural designs. Rather, it was felt homes in an area should "have the same general feeling."

TO SOME of the women a handsome, well-tended front yard still seems desirable, and sort of a "status symbol." But others, particularly in western cities, considered the old fashioned front yard a waste of precious land. The "walled courtyard idea" made sense to many. Women in most of the cities stressed, however, that the main outdoor living area should be at the rear of the home.

American Education Week— A Tribute To Educators

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

The theme for American Education Week Nov. 10-16, is "Education Strengthens the Nation." The purpose of the week is to concentrate attention upon education as a major factor in our society.

As the nation pays tribute to educators, interest will be directed towards seven important aspects of education. Beginning on Sunday the topics for consideration are: Values of Free Men; Learning Opportunities for All; Quality Teaching; Balanced Curriculum; Community Resources; Financial Support; Goals for Tomorrow.

The effectiveness of the program depends on the cooperative efforts of you and the school. Many state and national organizations will be participating.

Each community should make an attempt to learn more about its schools. A school reflects the desires of the community for which it exists. The quality of the educational program will depend upon the interest and support of the public.

Parents have a direct interest in the schools because of their children. Most schools direct their programs toward parents. Perhaps this year an effort will be made to reach all members of the community even if they do not have children attending the schools. They are all involved in supporting budgets. They all directly or indirectly benefit from education.

Modern education extends beyond the schools. It involves community services and the home. Success, therefore, is dependent upon close cooperation between all these areas.

Our nation has grown the recognize that its education system is the backbone of its culture. No other area has so much to offer in terms of maintaining and improving the nation's position at home and abroad.

American Education Week should only be the beginning. The community's interest and support must continue throughout the year.

Tamalpais Centre Section To Hold Dessert-Party

The Drama-Literary Section of the Tamalpais Centre Women's Club will give a dessert card party on Friday at the clubhouse in Kentfield.

Mrs. J. W. Carrothers is in charge of the 12:30 p.m. luncheon. Committee members include Mesdames W. G. Courtright, Lewis L. Cummings, Roy Leuterdt, A. M. Komora, Robert Abbott, Oscar Olsen and Roland Becsey.

Outdoor Art Club Opens Meetings

The public is invited to attend two section meetings of the Outdoor Art Club Thursday at the clubhouse in Mill Valley.

At 10:30 a.m. Thomas C. Nelson, civic leader and attorney of Mill Valley, will speak to the civics and conservation section on "Property Owners and their Rights in Mill Valley." At 1:30 p.m. the literary section will hear Mrs. Carlton Banigan review "Women of Surburbia" by Jerome Beatty Jr.

WSCS To Hold Gift, Card Sale

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Tamalpais Valley Community Methodist Church will hold its third annual Christmas gift and card sale Thursday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The sale will take place in Kenny Hall of the church at the corner of Marin and Ash Streets under the direction of general chairman Mrs. John House, president of the women's society.

Coffee will be served.

New Ovens Clean Itself

The chore that women abhor, oven cleaning, may be a thing of the past. A self-cleaning oven is now a reality.

The new oven operates at 800 degrees. To clean it three dials must be set to "clean" and oven door latched.

It cannot be opened while the cleaning cycle is in progress, or until the temperature of the oven returns to 600 degrees. The cleaning job takes about an hour-and-a-half for a slightly soiled oven to four hours for a real dirty job.

The cleaning process is done automatically by electricity. Compounds and chemicals are not used. This added feature costs about $100 more than the regular priced oven.

TO THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS,
Marin General Hospital,
Marin Hospital District,

San Rafael, California.

We have examined the accompanying balance sheet of MARIN GENERAL HOSPITAL as at June 30, 1963, and the related statement of income and expense for the year then ended, and including the accumulated excess of income over expense. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

The accompanying statements include only the finances of Marin General Hospital and are exclusive of funds and accounts administered by the County Treasurer in connection with Marin Hospital District Bonds.

In our opinion, the accompanying statements present fairly the financial position of Marin General Hospital at June 30, 1963, and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, except that no depreciation has been provided for hospital buildings, applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

New Trend Taking Shape In Germany

By JOHN DORNBERG
Worldwide Press Service

BONN — Coincident with Ludwig Erhard becoming West Germany's new chancellor — though not as a consequence of the shift in leadership — a trend toward a new view of the German reunification problem is taking shape.

A seldom discussed view of the East-West issue has recently bloomed in print, and appears to be finding extensive public response.

The existence of the Communist regime in East Germany is being increasingly recognized as a fact, however grudgingly. Reunification is being viewed as a dream that cannot be realized by any measure short of war. No German is prepared to pay that high a price.

No politician in conservative, provincial Bonn and none in the often not-so-provincial provinces is ready to advocate or identify himself with such views in public.

But some of the country's publicists have started to prick the myth that has guided German policy since Konrad Adenauer first moved to power. It is a myth that was upheld by the opposition Social Democrats as fervidly as by the ruling Christian Democrats.

Erhard is not a believer in myths. But it is not his more realistic approach to Germany's future that has set these new ideas in motion. Rather it is the sequence of world events and pressures attendant on the Cold War thaw which has goaded some of West Germany's opinion molders to reappraisal.

Considerable responsibility for this new trend goes to the Berlin faction of the Social Democratic party.

Their program of releasing trial balloons on the matter in recent months has paid off, though a party spokesman told this correspondent: "We can only go so far. We'll move step by step."

Though West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt's steps are small, they have spurred some thinking. Evidence of the new thoughts that are taking shape may be found in more places than editorial pages of liberal newspapers.

Even some politicians and leaders of the traditionally steadfast groups have stuck their big toes in the water to test the temperature.

Thomas Dehler, a pillar of the middle-of-the-road Free Democratic party and a vice-speaker of the Bundestag, said on his return from a Moscow visit and a Khrushchev talk, that one of the misfortunes of West Germany has been its "negative policy toward the East."

More recently, even the chairman of the "Curatorium Undivided Germany," an organization pledged to most basic principles of the myth policy, told a group of Silesian and Pomeranian expellees: "Maintaining tensions between East and West is simply not a practical basis from which to pursue a policy of reunification."

The new attitude is more the result of several factors than any new policy being set or kindled by Chancellor Erhard.

The reaction of the Adenauer government to the test-ban treaty had its shock effect among those elements in the country which believe that Germany shouldn't consistently by the "nein-sager"—the no man.

Also it has motivated the younger generation of politicians who will be granted a big voice in the Erhard era.

To a great extent, there has been a realization of late that the old policies, which have remained virtually unaltered for 14 years, have brought the country no closer to its goals in a rapidly changing world.

These new moods are bound to influence the Erhard administration, however inadvertently, and set the new chancellor on a path he had no conscious intention of traveling.

Recognition talk is not new in West Germany. What is new is that it has now become fit for the drawing room, whereas it used to be considered heresy. Pragmatism is no longer equated with treason, and the new viewpoints are certain to find more resonance with Erhard than they did with Adenauer in the waning days of his administration.

Parks, Rec Unit Meets Tomorrow

Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission, whose chairman resigned last month but was promptly asked to reconsider, will meet at 1 p.m. tomorrow in room 413 of the Civic Center.

Mrs. William B. Newman of Belvedere, chairman, submitted a written resignation on Oct. 25 to the county board of supervisors. She said her views were at odds with the majority of her commission. At a previous meeting she had differed sharply with her four colleagues on how much discretion should be given recreation director Kelvin J. Nelson.

Presumably, Mrs. Newman will preside at tomorrow's meeting.

The supervisors last week asked her to reconsider. A joint meeting of the recreation commission and the supervisors is set for 8 p.m. Nov. 15.

The agenda for tomorrow's meeting includes a study of work priorities for the coming year, and director Nelson's monthly activity report.

Sausalitan Treated For Broken Jaw

A Sausalito woman was in "good condition" today at Marin General Hospital with a broken jaw and other injuries reportedly suffered when she tripped over a pipe in Mill Valley.

Mrs. Keely Reifsteck, 24, 514 Caledonia Street, was treated for a broken jaw, loss of teeth and cuts and bruises on her body.

Mill Valley police officer Robert Dyche answered a call at the Office Bar, 153 Throckmorton Avenue, at 10:45 p.m. Sunday. William Jackson, bar owner, said Mr. and Mrs. Riefsteck had entered the bar with another couple. He said he refused the Reifstecks service as they were arguing and "making wise cracks."

When the second couple was served drinks, Reifsteck knocked the drinks off the bar and left, said Jackson. Reifsteck told police his wife ran down Creek Lane, tripped and fell over a pipe.

New Dixie Site To Be Discussed

Dixie School District trustees will meet in special session Thursday at 7:30 p.m. to award a contract for development for the Nova Albion School site near Terra Linda High School.

The meeting will be in the district office, 4775 Redwood Highway.

Other items on the agenda are the employment of a third grade teacher for Lucas Valley School and discussion of a second annual Dixie District education conference.

VAN DELLEN

Treatment of obesity is not very successful, even though the remedy is known. Is it the fault of the physician or his patient? The medical profession is willing to take the blame if for no other reason than its inability to understand why fatties eat so much.

The most difficult obese persons to treat are those with compulsive eating habits. They have many psychological traits that give them a persisting and increasing urge to gorge. This neurotic tendency is established during childhood and adolescence. Many were mother's pet—a type of clinging, dependent individual.

SOME WILL admit having feelings of restlessness that food satisfies. These men and women are likely to go on eating binges regardless of the time of day or night. Others have strong feelings of hunger or appetite all the time, and stuff themselves whenever they have the opportunity. They have a permanent eating drive.

Compulsive eating, for them, is an escape mechanism. They are happy when nibbling and gorging and unhappy when dieting. Let well enough alone is good advice, provided they know why they behave as they do. In many instances, psychiatric care is required.

BUT NOT every heavyweight has a neurosis or compulsion to overeat. Some have a metabolic constitution that permits their body to function properly on a minimum number of calories. The rest of the food sticks to their ribs and they put on those extra pounds if they happen to love their vittles.

Poor dietary habits play a role among the millions who have a five to 10 pound surplus. This expansion begins after joining a club, getting married, or during pregnancy —situations known all too well by most of us. These are the men and women who diet once or twice a year. This is done in the spring and fall when switching from summer to winter clothing and vice versa. The garments are too tight and it is cheaper and more healthful to lose five pounds than to buy a new wardrobe.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

RASH OVER NOSE AND CHEEKS

Mrs. R. writes: What is the disease that causes a butterfly pattern on the face?

REPLY

Lupus erythematosus, a disease of the connective tissues. The cause is not known but the most recent suggestion is that the person is allergic to himself (hyperimmune reaction). The characteristic butterfly rash over the nose and cheeks is not always present. But the disease is suspected when no cause can be found for fever, fatigue, and aching. A blood test is available. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on lupus erythematosus.

NERVOUS BLADDER

K.C. writes: I have weak kidneys and the high school doctor says this condition is due to nerves. Is this possible?

REPLY

Yes, provided tests show the kidneys and bladder are normal. Nervousness manifests itself in various ways, including the inclination to visit the bathroom more often than normal.

IT WILL RETURN

L.F. writes: I lack urinary control since a prostate operation two months ago. Will this control ever be regained?

REPLY

Yes. This is a common but temporary aftermath of the operation.

CLIMATE NOT A FACTOR

W.H.O. writes: Is human gestation longer in a tropical country than in temperate climates?

REPLY

No. A range of 231 to 329 days is world-wide.

Interviews Set For City Manager

A new Mill Valley city manager may be selected within two weeks, Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks said today.

So far 10 men have been interviewed, including two Saturday. Another is to be interviewed at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in city hall and tentatively, two on Saturday at 9 a.m. and two Sunday at 10 a.m.

"We hope to narrow the field down and, perhaps, make a selection within the next couple of weeks," Sheeks said. The council has been giving preliminary interviews for a manager since resignation of A. E. Almcrants Oct. 21, effective not before Dec. 31.

Boy's Attacker Sought By Sheriff

Sheriff's officers today were looking for the driver of a blue Volkswagen with out-of-state license plates who forced a 17-year-old Fairfax boy into a perverted sex act Sunday night.

The boy told officers the man, about 23 years old, five feet nine inches tall, weighing about 170 pounds and wearing a dark suit, offered him a ride as he was walking home from a show on Sir Francisc Drake Boulevard.

He said the man drove him past his home and on to Forest Knolls, and then onto a side road. The youth said he tried to fight the man off, but could not. After the assault, he said, the man drove him home.

Forgery Charge Plea Is Entered

Martin Brigmon, 35, of Los Angeles, pleaded guilty to one count of forgery yesterday in Marin County Superior Court. He was arrested Oct. 13 by Fairfax police and charged with passing two forged $54 checks of the Meadow Hunt and Trail Club, Bolinas, at the Food Villa Market in Fairfax.

Judge N. Charles Brusatori referred the case to the probation department for a report Nov. 18.

Tools Worth $1,000 Taken At Sausalito

More than $1,000 worth of tools, including hand power tools, were stolen from a construction shack at the Ebb Tide Apartments, just outside Sausalito, possibly on Halloween, sheriff's officers reported today.

Contractor Roger Harris said three hand power saws, worth a total of $255, a $50 pair of bolt cutters, a $75 router, a $75 nailing gun, two drills worth $75 each, a $150 saber saw, four rolls of cable worth $25 each and two cans of butyl caulking compound worth $31 each were reported missing.

Sierra Electric Co. of San Francisco also reported a $75 drill stored in the shed was taken, along with a box of hand tools.

The door of the shed was pried open, said Deputy Sheriff Martin J. Conlin. The apartments are inside the city of Sausalito, but the shed, at 1 Ebb Tide Avenue, is in unincorporated territory.

Appliance, Boat Sales Up In Marin

Marin County residents, in increasing numbers, want to own their own boats and appliances.

But, while home building projects are popular, the garden seems to have sunk to a lower importance when it come time to budget money from the family pocketbook.

BOAT SALES

Figures released by the State Board of Equalization for taxable sales by retail stores during the second quarter of 1963 show that sales of household appliances have increased 60 per cent and sales of boats 50 per cent over a year ago.

Another top gainer was lumber and building supply stores whose sales increased 45 per cent.

Largest loser were stores selling office and school supplies. Their sales dropped 10 per cent in the county. Second largest loser was farm and building supplies—down 7 per cent from last year.

An overall gain of 11.61 per cent was noted for all taxable sales in the county.

CLOTHING DOWN

In San Rafael, which accounts for about half of the county's sales, increases by boat and household appliance dealers followed the county increase. Sales of household appliances were up 88 per cent.

Sales of men's clothing were down 15 per cent, used cars were down 12 per cent and farm and garden supplies were down 16 per cent in San Rafael. Sales of gifts, art goods and novelties increased by 39 per cent in the city.

Retail stores sold $40,854,000 worth of taxable goods during the second quarter, compared to $19,329,00 sold in San Rafael. Sales in San Rafael increased almost 18 per cent over a year ago.

Four Chosen Finalists In AFS Program

John Distel, Marcia Miller, Leisa Rossman, and Helene Ruzicka are Sir Francis Drake High School's finalists for the 1964-65 American Field Service exchange program.

John is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Distel, 103 Van Tassel Court, Sleepy Hollow. Marcia is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Miller, 99 Fawn Drive, Sleepy Hollow. Leisha's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rossman, 2 Meadow Way, Fairfax. Helene lives at 36 Belle Avenue, Fairfax, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Ruzicka.

The American Field Service sends American high school students abroad for a school year of study or for a summer. In each case, they live with a family of the county and become a part of the family's life.

The four Drake juniors were chosen on the basis of written and oral interviews, with questions similar to what they might expect in the foreign country. Their names have been sent to the central AFS office in New York for final consideration.

The AFS committee at Drake has already raised several hundred dollars toward the $2,000 needed to support the exchange.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

Ames Ford Expects To Move To New Quarters On Francisco By Dec. 2

According to manager Lou Concilio, Ames Ford Sales expects to be moved into its new building on Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, by Dec. 2. This will bring all departments of the firm together again — trucks, parts, body shop, service, new and used car sales. Some unusual lighting features are planned for the new showrooms.

Present salesrooms at Third and Irwin Streets will be taken over by Shamrock Motors as soon as Ames Ford moves out. Shamrock's San Rafael salesrooms are now located at 1560 Fourth Street (Dodge cars).

"HELLBOT" will have his day on radio — at least by proxy. Public accountants Roland and Jorna Hellman, who opened their new office building on Fourth Street, San Rafael, last month, have been invited to appear on the Owen Spann Show over Radio KGO tomorrow and describe their robot accountant's unusual talents. They will be interviewed at 1:30 p.m. from the Domino Club in San Francisco. Our "success story" magazine article of Oct. 12 will be the basis for the discussion.

UNDERGROUND WIRING will be a feature of the San Marin planned community rising near Novato. The system is already installed in the first unit, and preliminary work is now in progress for other sections of the 2,000-acre site.

Primary power lines are the only wiring overhead. Hollow steel poles with no cross arms support transformers which are disguised at the top. The poles also serve to support street lights. The wiring is run down the center of the hollow poles and then underground. Also underground are telephone cables and leads to a community television antenna.
